MODI SPEAKS TO BIBI AS ISRAEL STEPS UP LEBANON CAMPAIGN

PM Narendra Modi and Israel's Benjamin Netanyahu discussed the situation in West Asia amid conflict in Lebanon. "Terrorism has no place in our world. It is crucial to prevent regional escalation and ensure the safe release of all hostages," Modi wrote on X. Meanwhile, a report said Israeli forces have conducted small-scale, targeted raids in Lebanon in recent weeks. To quell controversy, CM's wife offers to return all 14 sites

Dramatic development on a day ED registers PMLA case against Siddaramaiah, family

ON a day the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) registered an Enforcement Case Information Report (ECIR) against Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his wife Parvathy BM and others in the MUDA site allotment case, under the provisions of Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, a letter written by Parvathy to MUDA surfaced on Monday where she has offered to surrender all the 14 plots that are at the heart of the controversy.

In her letter to the Mysore Urban Development Authority (MUDA) commissioner, which is undated, Parvathy requested the Authority to take swift action and take back all the sites as soon as possible.

In her emotional letter, she wrote, "I have never sought wealth, property, or riches. I have lived carefully, ensuring that no stain touches my husband's political career due to my actions."

Parvathy mentioned that she had not discussed her decision with her husband, her son - Dr Yathindra, who is an MLC, or other family members. "This is a decision I made after consulting my conscience. The day the allegations surfaced, I had made up my mind to return the plots. However, some well-wishers advised me to reconsider as they believed these accusations were politically motivated. But my decision remains unwavering," she stated.

HC stays probe against Nirmala in poll bond case

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Monday stayed the investigation in the First Information Report (FIR) registered against Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, former Member of Parliament Naleen Kumar Kateel, officials of the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) and office-bearers of the BJP, by the city police on charges of extortion over electoral bonds. Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the interim order after hearing the petition filed by Kateel. The petition questioned the legality of the FIR registered by Tilak Nagar police in Bengaluru on September 28 on charges of extortion over electoral bonds on an order passed by a magistrate. The magistrate's order followed a private complaint filed by Adarsh R Iyer, co-president, Janaadhikaara Sangharsha Parishath (JSP).

Justice Nagaprasanna said, "I deem it appropriate to interdict further investigation into the matter till the next date of hearing." He adjourned the hearing to October 22.

KG Raghavan, senior counsel appearing for Kateel, submitted that the documents attached to the petition prima facie demonstrated that no case of extortion was made out in the complaint or in the reference made by the magistrate seeking investigation into the matter.

He argued that Iyer's complaint itself was vague and did not make out any ingredient of extortion from the complainant. P4

THE Supreme Court on Monday criticised Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister and TDP chief N Chandrababu Naidu for making a public statement that the previous government led by Jagan Mohan Reddy used ghee containing animal fat to prepare laddus at Sri Venkateswara temple in Tirupati.

After going through the lab report, the court said it was 'the rejected ghee' that was sent for test and there was no prima facie evidence to show spurious ghee was indeed used for making laddus. P5

VETERAN actor and BJP politician Mithun Chakraborty will be bestowed with the Dadasaheb Phalke Award—the government's highest recognition in the field of cinema—this year. Once a sympathiser of the Naxal movement in Calcutta, Chakraborty became a Rajya Sabha MP on a Trinamool Congress ticket in 2014. However, he moved to the ruling BJP in 2021 ahead of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly election that year. Earlier this year, he was also awarded the Padma Bhushan, the third highest civilian honour in the country.

Making the announcement on X on Monday, Union Minister for Information and Broadcasting Ashwini

Vaishnav wrote, "Mithun Da's remarkable cinematic journey inspires generations! Honoured to announce that the Dadasaheb Phalke Selection Jury has decided to award legendary actor, Sh. Mithun Chakraborty Ji for his iconic contribution to Indian Cinema." The award will be presented at the 70th National Film Awards ceremony on October 8.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi reshaped the post and wrote on X, "Delighted that Shri Mithun Chakraborty Ji has been conferred the prestigious Dadasaheb Phalke Award, recognizing his unparalleled contributions to Indian cinema. He is a cultural icon, admired across generations for his versatile performances. Congratulations and best wishes to him." P10

E-KHATA TRIAL LAUNCH TODAY

Citizens can download draft; those without documents can visit ARO for final e-khata

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO simplify the process of obtaining property khata for the citizens of Bengaluru, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is set to launch a trial run of its faceless, contactless and online e-khata distribution system on Tuesday. This initiative is aimed at effective property management.

The BBMP has generated draft e-khata based on existing records, which can now be accessed online at www.bbm-peaasthi.karnataka.gov.in. With this, citizens will be able to download their draft e-khata documents easily.

To obtain the final e-khata, property owners are required to submit additional information online, including Aadhaar e-KYC, property GPS coordinates, photographs of the property, registered deed of the property, Encumbrance Certificate (EC) from April 1 to the present, Bescom meter number, and additional documents for providing it is A-Khata.

Those who lack the necessary documents can visit their respective Assistant Revenue Officer (ARO) in person to obtain the final e-khata in accordance with established rules.

Citizens will have a seven-day objection period following publication of the draft e-khata, during which they can file objections against the issue of the final e-khata.

AROs will prioritize these objections and conduct investigations before making a final decision. After the objection period and any necessary inquiries are completed, the final e-khata will be issued.

The digitization effort encompasses approximately 21 lakh properties, allowing citizens to easily download their draft e-khata, upload required information, and print the final e-khata, without requiring an in-person meeting with the ARO.

However, those who generate their final e-khata online will need to meet with the jurisdictional ARO for identity and document verification, before proceeding with any sale or transaction at the sub-registrar's office.

The initiative aims to streamline property management processes in Bengaluru, making them more efficient and accessible for citizens. BBMP will also release a training video to guide citizens through the process.

Builders drag feet on paying penalty owed to homebuyers

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

BUILDERS in the state have paid just 12.5% of the total penalty amount they owe to homebuyers — just Rs 79.94 crore out of Rs 627.32 crore levied by the Karnataka Real Estate Regulatory Authority (K-RERA). Data made public on Sunday (September 29) by the authority reveals that of the 1,354 recovery warrants it issued, just 185 have been successful.

These recovery figures are realised up to August 31. RERA has uploaded it on its website following a representation submitted to it on August 9 by the Forum for People's Collective Efforts (FPCE), an umbrella body of homebuyers.

Responding to the data, M S Shankar, general secretary, FPCE, called for a joint meeting of homebuyers with revenue, housing and RERA officials to chart out the way forward to recover the penalties. "The Real Estate Act (RERA) was enacted by Parliament in 2016 to protect the life savings of homebuyers. Execution of the orders for recovery of the compensation is most crucial. However, despite clear provisions in the law and favourable orders from the regulatory authorities directing the builders to return their money and/or handover possession, the orders are not honoured by builders. This is leading to homebuyers running from pillar to post to get the orders implemented," he told TNIE. "It is a sheer case of lack of regulatory enforcement," he added.

He alleged that there was no seriousness by the state government for the enforcement of the RERA Act, which stipulates that the orders need to be honoured by developers within 60 days.

A source familiar with the issues told TNIE, "The deputy commissioners or tahsildars, who are supposed to implement the orders, are already overburdened. The issue of non-payment of dues is only going to pile up as more orders are issued. RERA-K needs to take pro-active steps to deal with the issue from its end. Most builders in the state are working on multiple projects and visit the regulator's office repeatedly to obtain consent. RERA needs to crosscheck if they have paid the past dues before giving them any new sanction." The other option is for the BBMP or the BDA or the BMRDA, which the builders approach to get their building plan sanctioned, to make it mandatory for builders to submit a declaration that they have upheld the orders of RERA.

Dhananjaya Padmanabhaiah, convenor of Karnataka Home Buyers Forum, said, "There needs to be a revenue officer within RERA who owns the responsibility of recovery from promoters and pays it to homebuyers. This officer should have powers to attach the properties of the promoters or even issue an arrest warrant when the orders are not honoured."

15L apartment residents to get real-time traffic alerts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a first-of-its-kind partnership between a government department and a community organisation, the Bangalore Apartments Federation (BAF), which represents nearly 1,300 apartment and villa resident welfare organisations, on Monday signed an MoU with the Bengaluru Traffic Police to get real-time traffic alerts.

In all, 15 lakh citizens residing or working in apartments will gain from this initiative, which will enable them to plan their commute efficiently.

Joint Commissioner of Police (Traffic) M N Anucheth said, "Under this MoU, BTP will share real-time traffic updates and alerts with BAF, allowing apartment residents to plan their commutes more efficiently. Our teams will also attend BAF cluster meetings to offer training and awareness on road safety and traffic rules. We will provide hyperlocal updates and traffic alerts within a 5-km radius (of apartments)."

An official release from the BAF said the objective behind the agreement is to ensure effective time management, awareness and public collaboration. "Live alerts of congestion across the city will be notified via the BAF Connect Member mobile app, its website and WhatsApp channels," said a release.

Vikram Rai, president of BAF, said, "We hope that soon we can also enable residents and other citizens to contribute information and alerts back to the system, making it really dynamic and community-centric."

BAF will collaborate with BTP to design special awareness and training programmes on traffic sense, rules, guidelines and civic action among children and youth in apartments, the release added.

Chikkajala gets Akshaya Patra kitchen

To provide nutritious midday meals to more than 200 government and government-aided schools in Yelahanka, Jakkur, Hebbal and surrounding areas, the Akshaya Patra Foundation launched a state-of-the-art kitchen in Chikkajala on Monday. This will be the foundation's 75th kitchen in the country. The facility was launched in collaboration with the Thakkar Family Foundation and aims to provide 35,000 school meals daily within a four-hour cook-to-consumption timeline. The kitchen was inaugurated by Infosys founder NR Narayana Murthy and Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda. The new kitchen features advanced technology, including a solar plant for energy efficiency and an effluent treatment plant to minimise environmental impact. It also includes a dedicated milk reconstitution plant under the 'Ksheera Bhagya' scheme, enhancing the nutritional offerings for children. ENS

As BBMP leaves Chickpet in a mess, traders see biz nosedive, count losses

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

WITH the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's 100-day deadline to complete its white-topping work at Chickpet long past, Bengaluru's busiest wholesale market remains in a shambles.

What began as a white-topping project in May has now stretched far beyond the expected timeline, leaving traders grappling with mounting losses. Now as Dussehra approaches, businesses are seeing their earnings take a beating, with both sellers and customers unable to even navigate the dug-up streets.

Located in Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao's Gandhinagar constituency, Chickpet is home to a wide range of businesses, from clothing stores to electronics outlets and small eateries. Foot traffic has plummeted, with traders along BVK Iyengar Road and Mamulpet till Chickpet Metro station reporting a 30-40% drop in revenue.

While a BBMP engineer attributed the delay in completion of the work to intermittent rainfall, traders said it was due to poor coordination between civic agencies, which has left businesses in a lurch.

Shankar, a trader, said many shopkeepers in the area have resorted to paying additional charges to coolies to transport goods, as delivery trucks cannot reach their shops due to the ongoing construction.

Many shop owners mentioned that those who rely on quick stock turnover are facing delays, causing shortages of popular items and further reducing customer visits. "The losses are beyond measure," they said.

Another trader, Prakash, said regular customers have started purchasing goods from other areas. "It is not just about convenience. In a few months, people can easily shift their business elsewhere, and it will be hard to get them back."

An eatery owner highlighted the impact the delays have had on day-to-day operations. "We used to have a steady flow of customers from the nearby Metro station, especially during the evenings, but now, it is barely trickling. Instead of people stopping by for a quick snack, the area is mostly blocked with traffic."

Trade activist Sajjan Raj Mehta called for better accountability from authorities, suggesting that visible boards with contact information and project timelines should be installed. "Those responsible for delays should face penalties," he said, adding that the traders are growing increasingly concerned that the prolonged disruption will have lasting effects on their businesses as customers and suppliers alike are forced to look for alternatives.

Mehta said, "We understand that development work takes time, but no one is giving us clear answers about when this will finally end."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

01st October: What a fine day this could be. The Moon's changing mood indicates a high level of inspiration and creative flair. We can all imagine a better world. This is no time to put such dreams into practice, but it is an excellent moment to make plans for the future, and to prepare for the best!

ARIES

(Mar 21 - Apr 20)

Mars, a planet whose two and a half year cycle regulates your general affairs, is now urging you to assert your interests, but in a rather inefficient manner! You should avoid pushing yourself forward at the risk of taking the wrong direction. It's much better to slow down and think more.

TAURUS

(Apr 21 - May 21)

Your mood will change around early afternoon. Your relationships are likely to be affected first, and the chances are that you'll tend to withdraw yourself from people you were formerly happy to mix with. Everyone must recognise that you need your privacy.

GEMINI

(May 22 - June 21)

You may have cut off your nose to spite your face - or turned the clock back in one important area. But, then, that may not be a bad thing! Who knows? You might actually have avoided a whole heap of trouble by pulling out of a commitment. A friend may need reassurance, though.

CANCER

(June 22 - July 23)

You are showing a strong tendency to over-work. You may also be feeling under the weather, perhaps as a result of past strain. On the other hand, your general stellar and celestial influences today are positive and you could therefore do much to remedy the situation.

LEO

(July 24 - Aug. 23)

Your current planetary patterns seem to be making you more energetic and self-confident. If you have any role models, they should be found among children and young people or, at the very least, those friends who make a point out of being light-hearted.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

Of all the signs of the zodiac, yours may find itself most sharply squeezed between contradictory pressures and irreconcilable options. In addition, your range of possibilities could be limited; there may be nothing to choose between total commitment and a complete break.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

It's clear that you can't carry on forever in the same old groove, and you must be prepared to cut out a great deal of dead wood if you are to get your point across. Others must be able to see that you are not hung up by beliefs which are nothing if not irrelevant.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

There are a number of adverse planetary patterns, but it would be a mistake to imagine that life must be difficult. When challenging events accumulate, it is always possible to search for, and find, the gain of gold which can transform your future. Make your own success!

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Everything depends on what you expect. If you continue to believe that other people will let you down then they probably will. However, one way to deal with personal squabbles might be to recognise others' independence, just as you insist that they respect yours.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

Any current restlessness is likely to be born out of frustration. The way to live positively at the present is to be thoroughly self-sacrificing and utterly charitable in all your dealings with your fellow humans. Mind you, if you are going to abandon your own interests, make sure you do it for a deserving cause.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

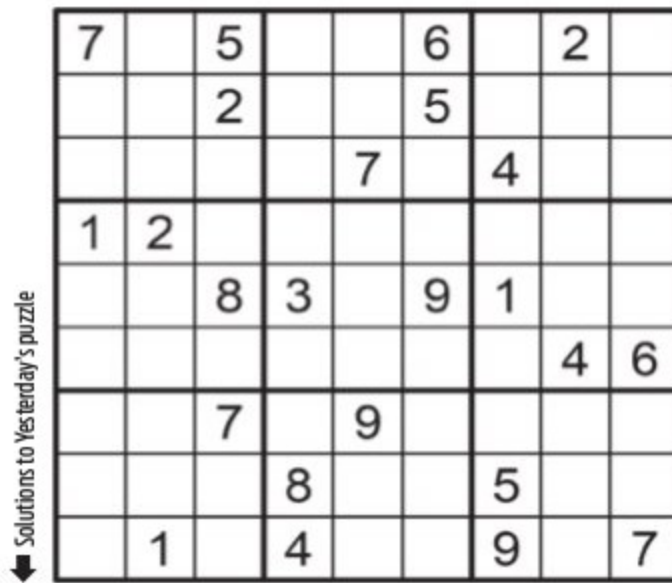

There are still far too many uncertainties and loose ends, but that is often the way you like it, so don't complain. Memory is a funny thing and, if you look back to a time when life was more secure, you are almost certainly deluding yourself. You have as much in your favour now as you did then.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

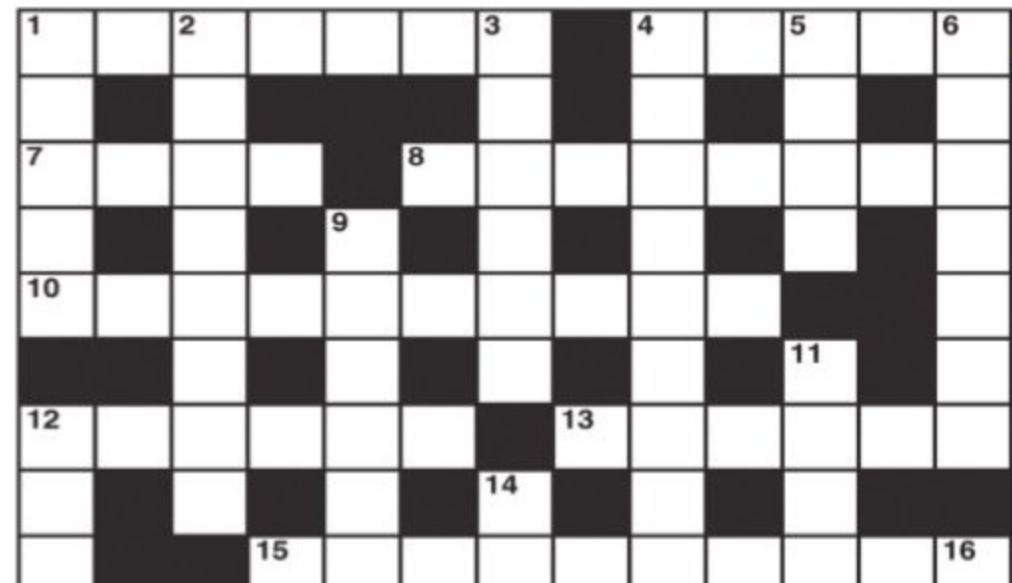

If you are precise and painstaking in your dealings with loved ones, you will escape any blame for anything that goes wrong on the emotional level. However, the odd breakage around the house is almost inevitable, so lock your valuables away! And try to soothe angry friends.

4 Pakistanis, under fake identities, nabbed in B'loru

Family stayed in an apartment near Jigani, arrests carried out tip-off from central agencies, they were readying to flee

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOUR Pakistanis, who were living on the outskirts of Bengaluru with fake identities for the last six years, were arrested on Sunday night. Investigations revealed that the prime accused had fled Pakistan and Bangladesh due to harassment by religious leaders.

The accused have been identified as Rashid Ali Siddiqui alias Shankar Sharma (48), his wife Ayesha Anif alias Asha Rani (38), her mother Rubina alias Rani Sharma (61), and father Hanif Mohammed alias Ram Babu Sharma (73). The family was staying in an apartment in Rajapura in Jigani police limits and Siddiqui was supplying oils to garages, and also selling food items.

The police said the arrests were made based on a tipoff from central intelligence agencies, which had recently arrested two Pakistanis at Chennai airport with fake passports. During questioning, those individuals claimed that they were relatives of Siddiqui living in Bengaluru.

The Jigani police, following this information, traced the house where the family of four lived in Rajapura village and arrested them. The family, after knowing about the arrests in Chennai, was preparing to vacate the house, police said, adding that those arrested in Chennai were Siddiqui's brother-in-law and his wife.

Upon questioning, Siddiqui, who identified himself as Sharma, showed his passport and Aadhaar card. However, the house had photos and books related to Islam, as well as a photo of the Mehdi Foundation International Jashan-E-Younus. When he was pressed by police, Siddiqui further revealed that he had married Rubina and moved to India in 2014. They initially settled in Delhi and managed to obtain fake Aadhaar cards, voter IDs, passports, PAN cards, and driving licences. In March 2018, they relocated to Bengaluru.

According to the FIR, Siddiqui is from Li-aquatabad in Karachi, and his wife and her family are from Lahore. He married Ayesha, who was in Bangladesh, through online. The religious leaders in Pakistan harassed him, prompting his move to Bangladesh. While in Bangladesh, he served as a preacher and worked with the Mehdi Foundation, which covered his expenses. However, he faced harassment from religious leaders there as well. In 2014, after contacting a man named Parvez from the foundation in India, he illegally entered India, paying an agent, who facilitated their passage through Malda in West Bengal, and they stayed in Delhi. While in Delhi, Siddiqui preached to others about Islam through Alra TV.

After a visit to Nepal in 2018, he met Wasim and Altaf, both members of the Bengaluru Mehdi Foundation. Altaf took care of the house rent, while Siddiqui continued his religious preaching on television.

The police are currently questioning the four about Siddiqui's network, workplace, and activities during their time in Bengaluru. They collected documents from the residence and conducted a search, while the four were taken for medical examinations on Monday. The police have arrested four and are searching for Parvez and others.

The police have registered a case under Sections 420 (cheating), 468 (forgery for the purpose of cheating), and 471 (using as genuine a forged document or electronic record) of the IPC, as well as under the Sections of the Passport Act.

HARSHA CASE

HC junks plea claiming NIA probe targets minorities

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court turned down the contention of an accused in the killing of Harsha, a cow protection activist and member of the Bajrang Dal, in Shivamogga, that the case was entrusted to the NIA to target members of the minority community.

A division bench of Justices Sreenivas Harish Kumar and JM Khazi passed the order, dismissing the petition filed by Roshan A (28). Roshan, accused No. 7 in the killing of Harsha on February 20, 2022, and other accused are facing trial for offences under provisions of the IPC and UAPA.

The court noted that the petitioner's contention is fallacious. "Terrorism has no territorial bounds, though it has nothing to do with any particular religion, if terrorist activities are perpetrated by fanatics to achieve religious supremacy decrying other religions and thereby posing a threat to the integrity, unity and stability of the nation, people of such mindset have to blame themselves if they get into trouble," the court added.

It stated that the initial burden is on the prosecution to establish its case, and if the petitioner or any other accused in this case has the feeling that members of the minority community are targeted though the scheduled offence is not committed, the prosecution witnesses can be discredited in the cross-examination. In other words, it is a matter of trial, therefore arguments based on this ground also fail, the court added.

30 hurt as KSRTC bus overturns on Mysuru Rd

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MORE than 30 passengers, including students, were injured after the KSRTC bus they were travelling in struck a stationary van and overturned on the service road of the Mysuru-Bengaluru access-controlled highway near Sanjo Hospital in Mandya on Monday. The bus, which was ferrying around 60 passengers from Tumakuru to Mysuru around 9.50 am, took a sudden turn to enter the service road. As the bus was travelling at high speed, bus driver Shashikumar is alleged to have lost control of the vehicle, hitting the van. More than 30 passengers were injured in the accident, and were admitted to Sanjo Hospital and MIMS Hospital by the people. It is said that a majority of the passengers were women and students.

Many passengers were injured after the KSRTC bus struck a stationary canter and overturned on the service road of the access-controlled highway in Mandya parked at the place as the bus would have come in contact with an electric transformer.

Meanwhile, bus driver Shashikumar, who too was injured in the accident and was admitted to MIMS hospital, denied that the bus was at high speed. He claimed that the vehicle was going at 40 kmph and the accident happened due to brake lever jam. MLA P Ravikumar, DC Kumar and SP Mallikarjun Baladandi visited the spot and the hospital where the injured are admitted. Mandya

Rural police have registered a case.

Ravikumar alleged that poor quality and unscientific work of the Mysuru-Bengaluru access-controlled highway have led to accidents on a regular basis.

"The number of accidents had reduced in recent times after ADGP Alok Kumar installed CCTV cameras and initiated stringent actions against violators. The accident has taken place due to unscientific work," he claimed.

BMTC BUS KNOCKS DOWN 43-YEAR-OLD GOLDSMITH

BENGALURU: A 43-year-old man died after being knocked down by a BMTC bus, on CV Raman Road on Monday. Yeshwanthapur traffic police have registered a case and arrested the bus driver, Mohan Kumar. The deceased is identified as Eshwara, a goldsmith from Vidyanarayana. The police said that around 1 pm, Eshwara, who had finished his work, was heading home, when his bike hit the rear of a car, causing him to fall on the road, when a BMTC bus (Route No. 401; KA 57F 4400) passing next to him ran over him, killing him on the spot. The bus was plying between Yeshwanthapur and Yelahanka Old Town Depot 8. Passersby alerted the police, who arrived on the scene and shifted the body to hospital for postmortem.

Newborn baby boy found buried, rescued

A newborn baby boy who was buried alive, was rescued by an alert villager who had gone to attend nature's call in Katriguppe Dinne village in Sarjapur police station limits around 9am Monday.

Police suspect the accused must have buried the baby in the dark, when there were few people around. The baby is suspected to have survived for two to three hours. Luckily, street dogs did not spot the baby as it was covered with mud.

The villager saw the baby by chance, after hearing him cry. The baby was buried near some bushes in a secluded area. Luckily, he was not buried deep inside, and was covered loosely with mud. The villager lifted the baby and brushed off the mud before informing others. News spread among the other villagers who informed the jurisdictional Sarjapur police.

The baby was admitted to Dommasandra government hospital for treatment. Doctors said since he was rescued on time, he is recovering with minor injuries. Police notified the district child protection unit to take custody of the baby.

"Asha from the child protection unit and her team visited the hospital and are looking into the matter. The baby is out of danger. We are checking CCTV footage of the area to get clues about the accused. It appears the accused are not locals, and they buried the baby in a hurry, fearing they would get caught," said an officer.

Investigation is continuing.

Sagar Hospitals Leads the Charge for Heart Health

Sagar Hospitals commemorated World Heart Day with a week-long series of engaging activities, culminating in a grand event at its Banashankari campus. The celebration drew over a thousand enthusiastic participants, promoting heart health awareness and empowering fellow citizens to adopt healthier lifestyles.

The main event began at 6 a.m. with a welcome dance and "I Pledge" ceremony, where individuals committed to prioritising heart health. This was followed by a 5 km walkathon, taking participants from Sagar Hospitals Banashankari to the Banashankari BDA Complex and back. Three inspiring survivors shared their remarkable stories of overcoming cardiac distress with the help of Sagar Hospitals.

The World Heart Federation (WHF) has announced September 29th as World Heart Day, established in collaboration with the World Health Organisation (WHO) to raise awareness about cardiovascular diseases globally, making the WHO a key stakeholder in this initiative. As one of the largest hospitals in the country, Sagar Hospitals came forward to commemorate this special day. In addition to the three-hour programme, there were several other events in the days leading up to World Heart Day.

There was a Sattvik cooking competition showcasing heart-healthy recipes that highlighted the magic of millets. The hospital offered exclusive angiography and cardiology health check packages for early detection and prevention. Renowned RJ Julius Sharma from radio partner Red FM provided live coverage and enthusiastic support throughout the event. Red FM extensively covered the event and broadcast updates throughout the week.

The morning walkathon, healthy breakfast, and engaging activities made for a memorable experience. Participants eagerly shared their stories of participation on social media using the selfie stands.

"We are thrilled with the overwhelming response to our World Heart Day initiative," said Ishiqqa Multani, President of Sagar Hospitals. "Empowering individuals to prioritise heart health is our top priority. This event was a testament to our commitment. It's heartening to see our community come together to prioritise heart health."

With the success of this event, Sagar Hospitals reaffirmed its commitment to promoting cardiovascular wellness and encouraging individuals to adopt healthier lifestyles. The enthusiastic response to the weeklong roster of activities demonstrated the acceptance and popularity of the hospital among the people of Bengaluru, as well as their willingness to take charge of their cardiovascular wellness.

Sibal lands in B'luu, meets CM

Senior advocate and former Union minister Kapil Sibal landed in Bengaluru on Sunday. His arrival comes at a volatile juncture for CM Siddaramaiah, who is facing an ED case. Sibal met Siddaramaiah on Monday morning, setting off speculation. His name was already doing the rounds in political circles after a recent court order went against Siddaramaiah. The meeting coincided with the Karnataka HC's directive to probe MUDA allotment of 14 sites to the CM's wife, Parvathy. In a twist, Parvathy on Monday surrendered all 14 sites to MUDA, leaving many surprised, and raising questions about growing pressure on the CM's family, and whether she returned the sites on Sibal's advice, or it was calculated power play.

ON a day of hectic political developments in Karnataka, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Monday evening met legal experts and two ministers after the Directorate of Enforcement registered an Enforcement Case Information Report (ECIR) against him, his wife and others in Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) case.

The meeting was attended by Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil and Social Welfare Minister Dr HC Mahadevappa, CM's legal advisor AS Ponnanna, Additional Chief Secretary LK Atheeq and ADGP (Intelligence) Hemant Nimbalkar. They discussed various options before the CM, including approaching courts to get an injunction against the ED probe, sources said.

Earlier in the day, the ED Bengaluru zonal office registered the case. ED sources, on condition of anonymity, said the ECIR has been filed based on the FIR registered by the Mysuru unit of Karnataka Lokayukta last weekend against Siddaramaiah, his wife Parvathy, his brother-in-law (Parvathy's brother) Mallikarjuna Swamy and a former landowner — Devaraju — from whom Swamy had purchased land and gifted it to Parvathy. The Lokayukta case was filed on charges of corruption, cheating and forgery in connection with the allotment of 14 sites in 2021 in lieu of 3 acres 16 guntas of land in the downmarket Kesare area outside of Mysuru city limits to create a layout.

PARVATHY'S LETTER ADDS NEW TWIST

In her letter, Parvathy, who has kept herself away from the public eye and political limelight, stated that recent allegations concerning the MUDA land allocation had deeply disturbed her. "The land plots, which were given to me by my own brother as part of our family ties, have turned into a controversy. I never imagined that these plots could cause my husband to face unfair accusations," she lamented.

Parvathy announced that the MUDA plots hold no greater value than her husband's honour and reputation. "These properties are like dust to me compared to the respect and peace of my husband. I have always refrained from seeking any benefits from his power, and now I wish to return these plots," she declared.

In addition to returning the plots, Parvathy called for a thorough investigation into the allegations related to the MUDA land allocation. "I request that a comprehensive inquiry be conducted to clear the air around these accusations," she added. In a concluding appeal, she urged political leaders to refrain from involving women from political families in controversies. "Please do not tarnish the dignity and honour of women in political families by dragging them into political rivalries," she implored. When The New Indian Express tried reaching MUDA Commissioners Raghunandan, he was not available for comments. The FIR by Lokayukta police on its part invoked various sections of the earlier criminal code — the Indian Penal Code (IPC) — such as 120B (criminal conspiracy), 166 (public servant disobeying law, with intent to cause injury to any person), 403 (dishonest misappropriation of property), 406 (criminal breach of trust), 420 (cheating and dishonestly inducing delivery of property), 426 (mischievous), 465 (forgery), 468 (forgery for purpose of cheating), 340 (wrongful confinement) and 351 (assault).

The Lokayukta police filed the FIR on the direction of people's representative court on September 25 on the basis of a private complaint filed by Snehamayi Krishna. On September 24, the Karnataka High Court had upheld the approval given by Governor Thawarchand Gehlot to the three private individuals/complainants to file cases against Siddaramaiah under Section 17A of the Prevention of Corruption (PC) Act.

ECIR IS LIKE AN FIR

The Directorate of Enforcement (ED) filed an ECIR against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and others in the MUDA case on Monday. An ECIR is similar to a First Information Report (FIR), but it is not required to be shared with the accused. It opens the doors for attachment of assets belonging to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and his family, besides some other coercive measures during the process of investigation.

BJP MP PREDICTS POLITICAL EARTHQUAKE IN K'TAKA SOON

Bengaluru: BJP MP Lahar Singh Siroya said that the Justice Kempanna Commission, appointed by CM Siddaramaiah, has confirmed that the Siddaramaiah-led govt (2013-2018) violated Supreme Court guidelines by illegally de-notifying 325.46 acres in Arkavathy Layout, Bengaluru. Siroya said the note that exposes this finding of the commission was written in 2017 by an IAS officer of the Additional Chief Secretary level in charge of the state Urban Development Department. It was written for the exclusive consumption of the government and has important notings on it, he said. "The Arkavathy layout denotification is pegged to be a scam worth a few thousand crores. Whom did this scam benefit? Where did its illegal proceeds go to? Did it fund any election? In fact, since the Justice Kempanna Commission report is such a detailed and thorough one, an FIR should be filed directly without any delay. The Congress government should trust the commission that it itself set up," the BJP MP said. "MUDA scam, Valmiki Corporation scam, KIADB scam, Arkavathy scam, etc., the list of the Congress government's scams only gets longer. We are bound to see these scams cause a political earthquake in Karnataka soon," he added.

JDS legislators demand action against IPS officer

BENGALURU : JDS legislators on Monday demanded disciplinary action against senior IPS officer M Chandrashekar for allegedly using abusive words against Union Minister and state party chief HD Kumaraswamy. The JDS delegation led by the legislative party leader CB Suresh met Chief Secretary Shalini Rajaneesh and submitted a petition seeking stem action against the Additional Director General of Police (ADGP). Kumaraswamy had accused the officer — who is heading the Special Investigation Team probing illegal mining cases — of being corrupt. The officer had hit back at the minister - in a letter to his staff - by quoting playwright George Bernard Shaw: "Never wrestle with pigs. You both get dirty and the pigs like it." The JDS and BJP leaders have taken exception to the language used by the officer in his letter to the SIT officials. The JDS MLAs demanded that the officer be terminated from service and a high-level probe. Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka also said the State and Union Government must take action against the IPS officer for his remarks against Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy.

CM, others created false records, says Snehamayi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

ACTIVIST Snehamayi Krishna, who is also a complainant in the MUDA case, has lodged a formal complaint with the Directorate of Enforcement (ED), urging the agency to investigate Chief Minister Siddaramaiah over allegations of misuse of power and illegal allotment of MUDA sites in favour of his wife Parvathy.

The 16-page complaint, a copy of which is available with The New Indian Express, highlights a purported Rs 55.8 crore gain by Siddaramaiah's family through questionable means.

Krishna has accused that there are ingredients of money laundering by Siddaramaiah and his family members and has requested the officials to take note of his complaint, take cognisance of offenses of money laundering, and investigate the matter.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Krishna said that he had sent a complaint on email in the past and now he has formally lodged a complaint which has been acknowledged by the ED. "My intention is to bring to light the irregularities in MUDA's site allotment process since 2015, where deserving beneficiaries were denied their plots, and a comprehensive probe into these affairs," he added.

In his complaint, Krishna has also accused that the CM along with other persons, by hatching a criminal conspiracy and altering public documents, created false records and used false and fabricated documents as genuine before the authorities concerned to grab MUDA land.

HC SAYS...

'Complainant not aggrieved party & victim of extortion'

SECTION 384 — which deals with punishment for extortion — cannot be invoked by any person. It is an exception to the concept of any person setting the criminal law into motion, he said.

Countering it, senior advocate Prashant Bhushan, appearing for Iyer, refuted Raghavan's submission to contend that this was a classic case of extortion where accused number 2, the ED, have put fear in certain companies to buy electoral bonds as a quid pro quo.

The Supreme Court, dealing with the issue, had left it open to the aggrieved to take recourse to remedies available under the law governing both criminal procedures. Taking a cue from the order passed by the apex court, the complaint is filed before the magistrate and therefore the crime should be permitted to be investigated, he argued.

The court observed that the complainant was not the aggrieved party and a victim of extortion. It said the complainant should be a person who is put into fear to deliver any property or valuable security to the accused. But the complainant has not suffered any fear at the hands of the petitioner, Kateel, accused number 4, or the other accused.

For Janardhana Reddy, it is homecoming after 14 years

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER Minister and MLA Gali Janardhana Reddy has said he will be returning to Ballari on Thursday after 14 years.

Speaking to media persons in Bengaluru on Monday, Reddy said that he is very happy with the Supreme Court order allowing him to return to Ballari. He would go to Ballari after visiting Gangavati in Koppal district which has given him a political rebirth, he said.

Reddy, who had played a key role in the formation of the BJP government in 2008, was barred from visiting his home district after several cases were registered against him in connection with illegal mining. The former minister said he would live in Ballari till his last breath. Reddy's last visit to Ballari was on November 21, 2022, when his daughter gave birth to a girl. Reddy said people of Ballari know that they implemented several development works during Yediyurappa's tenure as the CM and he would continue to work for the development of the district.

Reddy said he is an ordinary worker of the BJP and the party will decide the constituency from which he will contest in the future. He will make all efforts to ensure BJP wins the Sandur bypolls and also work to strengthen the party across the state.

Meanwhile, former Ballari City MLA of the BJP government in 2008, was barred from visiting his home district after several cases were registered against him in connection with illegal mining. The former minister said he would live in Ballari till his last breath. Reddy's last visit to Ballari was on November 21, 2022, when his daughter gave birth to

CONG TO FILE PLAINT WITH POLICE, I-T DEPT ON YATNAL'S ₹1,200 cr-REMARK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

DEPUTY Chief Minister and Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar on Monday urged the Income Tax Department to take note of Bhartiya Janata Party MLA Bsanagouda Patil Yatnal's statement that a BJP leader with ambitions to become the chief minister had set aside Rs1,200 crore to topple the State Government. The Deputy Chief Minister urged the I-T Department to investigate the matter.

"This shocking statement has been brought to the notice of the Congress high command. There is a conspiracy to bring down the government. We will discuss this with our legal counsels as well.

This allegation needs to be investigated by the I-T Department," Shivakumar told reporters after meeting Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara in Bengaluru.

Meanwhile, a delegation led by former MP V S Ugrappa lodged a complaint with the High Grounds police to investigate the Yatnal's statement.

"At the meeting held at a guest house in Davanagere, Yatnal, former BJP MPs Pratap Simha and G M Siddeshwara and MLA BP Hareesh discussed various political issues.

Later, Yatnal had issued a statement on the conspiracy hatched by a BJP leader to bring down the government by purchasing the MLAs," the complaint read.

Administrative Reforms Commission to review BPL criteria

BENGALURU: The Karnataka Administration Reforms Commission has constituted a sub-committee headed by the Additional Chief Secretary and Development Commissioner to review the Below Poverty Line (BPL) criteria and the process of issuing income certificates. Speaking to reporters in Bengaluru, commission chairman and former minister RV Deshpande said that the sub-committee is also tasked with reviewing and proposing suggestions regarding State Government schemes. Deshpande said that the commission has begun a detailed analysis to explore the possibility of merging departments, boards, and corporations. The Karnataka Administration Reforms Commission-2 has submitted seven reports, containing 5,039 recommendations, to the government by the end of January 2024, covering 39 departments. The commission held meetings with senior officers, including the Chief Secretary, to ensure that the recommendations were implemented. He said procedures related to citizen services and file movement will be simplified at all levels, efforts will be made to enhance revenue resources through the revision of fees and penalties, and more recommendations will be made to delegate administrative and financial powers to district-level, sub-division level, and taluk level officers. To improve service delivery, the existing vacant clerical posts can be converted to technical posts based on the workload, he said.

A bench of Justices B R Gavai and K V Viswanathan also sought to know if the laddus that were said to have been made using contaminated ghee were tested. "Whether that ghee, of which the sample was not found confirming to the standards, was used in the preparation of laddus?" it asked senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi, appearing for the AP government.

The bench said it was inappropriate on the part of a higher constitutional functionary to issue loaded statements before the conclusion of a probe, adding: "We should keep God away from politics." It noted that an FIR was registered on September 25 and the SIT was constituted on September 26, but the chief minister had already made a statement on September 18. After Naidu made the controversial statement, several petitions were filed before the SC seeking a court-monitored probe into the allegations.

Apex court grants interim protection to Siddique

HC denied anticipatory bail, citing he might tamper with evidence

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

IN a major relief to Malayalam actor, Siddique, the Supreme Court in its order on Monday granted him interim protection from arrest in a rape case registered against him based on certain allegations levelled by a young actress.

A two-judge bench of the top court, led by Justices Bela M. Trivedi and Justice Satish Chandra Sharma, while granting interim relief to Siddique, issued notice to the respondents.

The Malayalam actor, Siddique had moved the apex court, after the high court had on September 24 rejected his anticipatory bail plea in the sexual assault case registered against him.

The HC had denied him interim relief of anticipatory bail, after noting that the seriousness of the accusations he was facing, his custodial interrogation was inevitable for proper investigation of the crime.

The HC also noted that since Siddique's defence was "a total denial of the incident", his potency test was yet to be conducted and there being a "reasonable apprehension" that he may intimidate witnesses and tamper with evidence. "It was not a fit case to exercise the discretionary powers of the court" to grant him the relief," the HC said in its order and dismissed his anticipatory bail, forcing him to knock the doors of the top court for relief.

On the other hand, the accused had claimed in his antipatory bail plea before the high court, that the victim had repeatedly, for the past five years, made unsubstantiated and false claims of sexual misbehaviour and "verbal sexual offers" by him in a theatre in 2016. "There is even inordinate delay in registering the complaint in the case," Siddique claimed.

A case was registered against Siddique, for offences under sections 376 (Rape) and 506 (Criminal intimidation) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC).

Siddique has claimed in his plea that the complainant female actor had subjected him to a "prolonged campaign of harassment and false accusations since 2019".

Before the HC, the victim's lawyer, opposed his anticipatory bail plea, and had told that the state police was allegedly not conducting a proper probe.

Appoint another judge in Senthil Balaji case: SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday asked the Madras High Court Chief Justice to appoint another judge for trial of a case related to Tamil Nadu Minister V Senthil Balaji who was granted bail last week in a money laundering case related to the alleged cash-for-jobs scam. The court also said it would look into the petitioners' demand to remove Balaji from his minister post in the next hearing on October 22.

A bench of Justices Abhay S Oka and Augustine George Masih, which went through the report of the judge of a special court dealing with cases related to MPs and MLAs of Tamil Nadu, said the judge has 29 cases with him. The bench said the report submitted by the special judge indicates that in many cases, the trial has begun while in many others the trial is yet to begin.

"The case which is the subject matter of this application has more than 2,000 accused and around 600 prosecution witnesses. Looking at the allegations which have been made in the charge sheet, the case requires urgent disposal. Considering the number of cases entrusted to the special judge, it would be appropriate that the Chief Justice of the Madras High Court appoint one session judge to deal with this case," the bench said.

The bench then directed the registry to forward the copy of its order to the Madras High Court registrar general to be placed before the CJ for necessary action.

The ED had arrested Balaji, on June 14 last year when he was transport minister during the previous AIADMK regime between 2011 and 2016.

Man steps on another's foot, stabbed to death

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 52-year-old man, who had gone to his brother's house on the eve of 'pithru paksha' and was drinking with relatives and neighbours, was stabbed to death by a 27-year-old neighbour, after he stepped on the latter's foot. The incident occurred near Kanaka Bhavan in Sonnenuhalli in the wee hours of Monday, in Jnanabharathi police limits. The police have arrested the accused, M Keerthi.

The victim Murthy, who was into dairy business and was residing in Sonnenuhalli, had gone to his brother Srinivas' house in the vicinity on Sunday. Keerthi, a financier, was Srinivas' neighbour. The accused, along with other neighbours, were attending the puja. Around 10 of them were drinking at a dilapidated building that reportedly belonged to Srinivas. Meanwhile, Murthy stepped on Keerthi's foot, following which the latter, in a fit of rage, stabbed the victim with a knife.

Cong to celebrate 100 yrs of Gandhi's leadership

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS will observe Gandhi Jayanti in a big way with Gandhi Nadige (Mahatma Gandhi's walk) across the state for a year, marking the Father of the Nation taking over as Congress president 100 years ago in Belagavi.

The party's 136 MLAs will contribute Rs 25,000 each from their monthly salaries to fund the year-long programmes, said Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar, here on Monday.

He said to celebrate the centenary, Gandhi Walk and Cleanliness Pledge programmes have been organised across the state. Various other programmes will be held throughout the year, he added.

At 11 am on October 2, the Gandhi Nadige will be taken from Gandhi statue on MG Road to Bharat Jodo Bhavan of KPCC office on Queen's Road. The programme will be held at all district, taluk and block levels of the state.

Programmes from all the centres will be telecast simultaneously through virtual platforms. The oath will be administered directly on cleanliness and Gandhi's ideas, he added.

To also commemorate the centenary of Gandhi's ascendancy to the party president's post in December 1924, a joint legislature session will be held in the last week of December, he added.

The party's session will also be held separately on the lines of the Belagavi session 100 years ago to relive Gandhi's philosophy, ideology, message and contributions, he said.

It is mandatory for MLAs to take part in the programmes in their respective Assembly constituencies. Where there are no party MLAs, Council members, district presidents, vice-presidents and office-bearers should conduct activities, he said.

As part of the government programme, on the morning of October 2, a 1.5 km Gandhi Walk will be taken out from Gandhi Bhavan to the Gandhi statue in Vidhana Soudha. Later, over 500 school students will be taught about the cleanliness campaign in the banquet hall of Vidhana Soudha, he said.

A 60-member committee, consisting of Veerappa Moily, HK Patil, BL Shankar and him, was formed and it has given suggestions and instructions to the government and the party on the celebration plans. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has held many meetings and prepared the programme's outline, he revealed.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

DEVELOPMENT OF J&K THE BEST ANTIDOTE TO SHARIF'S FULMINATIONS

DEFENCE minister Rajnath Singh perhaps made the most persuasive argument to Pakistan to mend its ways, saying India could have provided much more aid than its $7-billion IMF package had our neighbour dialled down India-faced terror. IMF loans are loaded with conditionalities that Pakistan admitted would involve a painful transition, including killing 1.5 lakh government jobs, shutting down six ministries, merging two and right-sizing the rest, and increasing tax revenue. That does not read like a prescription to improve the ease of living in the immediate future. India, in contrast, was the first responder when the Sri Lankan economy suddenly collapsed after the Covid shutdown, by quickly extending $4 billion in aid. Sri Lanka has since stabilised and successfully conducted an election.

By its own admission, Pakistan is bleeding internally, having lost 80,000 soldiers and civilians to terror in two decades. The terror sanctuaries it incubated in Afghanistan to control the neighbour have gone rogue and are haemorrhaging it. As a result, Pakistan's economy has taken a $150-billion hit, Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif told the UN General Assembly last week. Instead of making amends, Sharif sought to create a false equivalence between Kashmir and Palestine, accusing the Indian security forces of excesses in the region. He made the claim in the teeth of the ongoing J&K elections, which by all accounts is the most peaceful and participative in recent memory. Foreign minister S Jaishankar was acerbic in his UNGA address about Pakistan's wrong policy choices. "When this polity instils such fanaticism among its people, its GDP can only be measured in terms of radicalisation and its exports in the form of terrorism... It can't blame the world; this is its karma," he sarcastically observed. Jaishankar went on to add that the only unfinished bilateral agenda was the return of Pakistan-occupied Kashmir to India.

Anecdotal evidence suggests that the popular mandate in Kashmir is to end central rule, restore the assembly and statehood, create employment and give wings to the people's aspirations. Pakistan must understand that it has zero leverage against India as its separatist proxies are no longer in play. In fact, some of them have entered the national mainstream. The best antidote to Islamabad's fulminations is J&K's quick development to create jobs for its youth and help realise its Davos-like potential.

OVERHAUL MUST TO MAKE ODISHA SAFER FOR WOMEN

A horrendous spate of sexual offences has rocked Odisha in a fortnight. The gangrape of a 17-year-old in Rourkela—twice within a few hours on Sunday—is still sending shockwaves across the state. She was kidnapped from near a pub that is located 100 metres from a police station and sexually assaulted by at least six persons. Barely 24 hours earlier, two young girls were abducted and raped by three persons in the same city. A few days before these incidents, an 11-year-old was raped and murdered in Nabarangpur district to the south of Rourkela. This shocking run of crimes against girls and women in the state are not isolated cases—they point to the poor state of women's safety in Odisha. A white paper presented in the assembly in August revealed that the state recorded 2,826 rape cases in 2023—that is, about seven offences a day. The National Crime Records Bureau puts Odisha among the top 10 states on incidences outraging women's modesty.

These figures do not sit well with the image of a peaceful state with law-abiding people created by the previous BJD dispensation. Though it launched several initiatives to enhance women's safety, the ground reality belied the image makeover such measures enabled. During the last two terms of its 24-year rule the regional outfit was in the crosshairs of the opposition over allegations of its party leaders' involvement in a number of crimes against women.

Chief Minister Mohan Majhi was spot on last week when he told a conference of police superintendents that the state had a "disappointing and unacceptable" conviction rate of 9.7 percent in crimes against women over the last 24 years. His government would require a massive systemic change to turn things around. The low conviction rate and high pendency must be tackled with appropriate infrastructure, manpower and use of technology during investigation and prosecution. Majhi has asked for a detailed report from the director general of police so that an action plan can be drawn up. The chief minister has shown the intent and sent a stern message to senior officers. It remains to be seen if it translates into action.

QUICK TAKE

TEACHING ABOUT NUTRITION

ON Monday, 11,000 Saksham Anganwadis were virtually inaugurated around the country. It's a laudable scheme that aims to upgrade these child care centres with better infrastructure, building-as-learning-aid features and clean drinking water. The effort that deserves to be highlighted more than others is the scheme's focus on nutrition—especially the plan to share information on plant nutrition. In a country where chronic anaemia and stunted growth are rife because of malnutrition among children, such knowledge is essential. Eventually, all of the country's 14 lakh anganwadis need to be upgraded. It would not be a stretch to say the nation's health depends on the success of this scheme.

THE fortnight gone by has had one big question out there in public discourse: "Who or what killed Anna?" Anna Sebastian Perayil, a 26-year-old CA at Ernst & Young died 4 months after joining the firm. Her parents indicated "overwhelming work pressure" as a cause of death. The case being discussed indicates a new cause of work- or overwork-related depression and death. Death due to work. And, in some ways, death due to the workplace.

The rest of the debate is out there in public space. An entire nation has discussed the case as one that typifies the high-tension workplace that India today boasts of. Grandmothers in every home with a grandchild in the workplace were involved in this discussion, just as parents and employees themselves were.

As the parents grieve their sad loss, the rest of the nation will cool down and move on to a newer issue. Public memory is really short. But must we? Should we not instead look at the cause and discuss ways to avoid such losses in the future? Must we not sit up and smell the burn?

India is today emerging to be the new workplace of the world. If in the old days the factories that produced physical goods were the production centres, today every corporate and commercial entity that produces both goods and services is a key production entity. In many ways, every company is a 'factory' that produces goods and services. The mindset at work has therefore the potential to become the same. There are a set of basic economic resources acquired. Land, labour, capital and entrepreneur (or enterprise) are put into play.

In a bulk of the companies, the entrepreneur is the business enterprise and its top management. In some cases, it is the owner and in others, the startup founder. Typically, the mindset is still that of a manufacturing play. The enterprise requires the best and optimal utilisation of all resources to garner the best profits. While land and capital are decidedly inanimate entities, the other two are really the alive ones.

The entrepreneur or business owner who drives work is at one end and at the other is the worker or employee. One drives work, and the other works to the diktat. The factory mindset therefore subliminally still dictates and milks work. And here-

Corporate leaders are still stuck on the manufacturing mindset of running factories. It's no surprise our offices are mostly unhappy places where burnouts are common in lies the problem.

While working hours are clearly defined, everyone is invariably expected to stretch themselves. The most junior employees in the organisation are typically the ones that stretch themselves the most. They are at the start of their careers, loaded with enthusiasm and ambition to grow, and are most certainly the most insecure in a corporate organisation. They need their jobs, they want to make the right impressions, they want to grow, and are vested with fire in their bellies. Must companies then avoid the "sweat factory" mindset of the factory-age we have hopefully long left behind?

I do believe this is the problem. Indian enterprise is still stuck on the manufacturing mindset. We still believe we run factories. To an extent, a fintech enterprise is a fintech factory and a consulting and management services firm is a consulting factory. We want to maximise the deployment of basic resources and achieve the best. Nothing wrong with that. Except we seem to want to treat humans as just another resource.

The Happiness Research Academy has just released a study that tracks the status of happy employees across sectors. The numbers are a worry in themselves. One of the big findings is that 54 percent of the workforce in India has an "intention to leave their jobs" at this point of time. That means more than half of our employees are unhappy at

DRAFT BILL ON EUTHANASIA: MERCY OF DIGNIFIED DEATH

THE Union health ministry's draft bill on euthanasia put out last week marks a shift in the conversation about end-of-life care and the right to die with dignity. Well, a country that cannot ensure a decent life for its citizens should at least facilitate a peaceful death to those who, in addition to the congenital Indian conditions of scarcity and anxiety, also suffer from terminal physical and mental ills.

A few weeks earlier, I had argued in this column in favour of active euthanasia. The draft bill advocates passive euthanasia. Active euthanasia is where lethal substances are administered to cause death. Passive euthanasia, on the other hand, involves withdrawing or disconnecting a feeding tube, turning off a life-support machine, not performing a life-extending operation, and not giving life-extending drugs.

To be eligible for passive euthanasia as envisaged in the draft bill, patients must be suffering from terminal illnesses or conditions that cause unbearable physical suffering. Patients must express their will in writing and undergo rigorous mental health evaluations to ensure their decision is voluntary and well-informed. A series of checks are included to prevent abuse, such as mandatory review boards, family consultations, and the involvement of multiple medical professionals.

The main weakness of the draft bill is that it excludes patients beleaguered by mental problems. For some reason, India seems to think that the mind is not a real source of problems, though predominant Hindu traditions emphasise the mind over the body.

Active euthanasia and assisted suicide have been legalised in several countries, and the number of patients choosing these options is steadily rising.

For example, Belgium and the Netherlands, which have some of the most progressive euthanasia laws in the world, have seen a substantial increase in the number of euthanasia cases. In 2022, over 2,700 people opted for euthanasia in Belgium, a 10 percent increase from the previous year. Similarly, the Netherlands reported over 8,700 euthanasia cases, making up over 5 percent of all deaths. In Canada, where euthanasia has been legal only since 2016, the number of cases surged to over 13,500 in 2022.

A good number of patients opting for euthanasia are mentally shattered people. A notable recent case has been that of Shanti De Corte, a 23-year-old Flemish woman in Belgium, traumatised as a survivor of a terrorist attack.

Shanti's death happened on May 7, 2022. Her parents were at her bedside when she closed her eyes for the last time. Though she had a troubled mind even before, the collapse of her inner world was triggered by the ISIS attack on the Brussels airport on March 22, 2016.

Active euthanasia is where lethal substances are administered. Passive euthanasia involves disconnecting a feeding tube or turning off life support. The draft bill advocates passive euthanasia for those undergoing unbearable physical suffering. It excludes mental problems altogether

Shanti was with her schoolmates at the departure lounge when the bombs went off. Among the 32 killed were many of her friends. The injured were over 300. In her own words, Shanti became a 'ghost' unable to feel anything anymore. Her medications included up to 11 antidepressants a day. And she lived in constant fear and anxiety.

Her case precipitated a massive public debate in Belgium as many doctors, health officials and members of the public were of the view that she could have had a better life had she chosen to live as medical possibilities were not exhausted and new-generation drugs were being invented.

The optimists failed to get the point. Faith and hope are not possible options for an acutely mentally troubled person. That is why they are in the spot in the first place.

IIT told to admit boy who lost seat over late fee

18-year-old Dalit youth missed admission into IIT-Dhanbad after he failed to deposit a fee of ₹17,500 as per deadline

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday intervened to help an 18-year-old Dalit youth, Atul Kumar, from Uttar Pradesh, by directing the IIT seat allocation authority to admit him into the electronics engineering programme at IIT-Dhanbad.

In a display of empathy, the top court assisted Kumar, who had lost his seat in IIT-Dhanbad after missing the deadline to deposit a fee of ₹17,500.

The court passed the order acknowledging Atul's remarkable potential and the hardships he had shown due to his financial constraints in depositing the fee.

A three-judge bench of the top court, led by the Chief Justice of India (CJI) D Y Chandrachud and also comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, passed the order saying, "We cannot allow such a young talented boy to go away. He cannot be left in the lurch."

While using its extraordinary powers under Article 142 of the Constitution in asking the IIT-Dhanbad to admit Atul Kumar into its Electrical Engineering B.Tech course, the apex court said, "Some places, teachers help; some places, judges help." The court also underscored that it was not just addressing the legal technicalities but ensuring that the youth's potential was not wasted.

Assam reply sought on demolition

The top court on Monday sought response from Assam government after hearing a plea filed by 47 state residents. The plea sought initiation of contempt proceedings against the state for alleged violation of the apex court order that said there shall be no demolition of properties across the country without its permission.

SC slams PIL for probe against ex-CJI

A Pune-based litigant was on Monday slammed for making former CJI Ranjan Gogoi as a party to his PIL, for dismissing his earlier plea related to a service dispute. "How can you file a PIL with a judge as a respondent? There has to be some dignity. You cannot just say I want an in-house inquiry against a judge," the top court said.

end, the CJI with a warm smile, told Kumar that "all the best and do well."

For Kumar's father, a daily wage labourer, the past three months were nothing less than an ordeal as he ran from pillar to post to secure his son's admission.

The father first went to the SC/ST Commission — a government body dealing with issues related to the Scheduled Castes and Tribes.

Then, as Atul had taken JEE exams in Jharkhand, he also sought assistance from the Jharkhand State Legal Services Authority, which directed him to the Madras High Court as IIT Madras had conducted the exam. On the advice of the high court, he moved the Supreme Court.

The apex court finally passed the order and directed the IIT seat allocation authority to admit him into the electronics engineering programme at IIT-Dhanbad.

"We are of the view that a talented student like the petitioner who belongs to a marginalised group who did all to secure admission should not be left out... we direct that candidate is granted admission to IIT-Dhanbad and let him be in the same batch to which he would have been granted admission if the fees would have been paid," the bench said in its order.

The petitioner's counsel said the student's father earns ₹450 daily. "The task of arranging ₹17,500 is a big deal. He collected money from villagers," he said.

SC asks Bengal govt why steps to install CCTVs in RG Kar hospital 'so slow'

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday questioned the West Bengal govt as to why it was slow in installing CCTVs and measures to ensure better safety for doctors in govt hospitals across the state.

"What steps have you taken to install CCTV cameras, construction of toilets, creating male and female duty rooms, biometrics, etc," a three-judge bench asked.

Taking suo motu cognisance in the brutal rape-murder of a 31-year-old resident doctor in the R G Kar Medical College and Hospital in Kolkata, the bench led by Chief Justice of India (CJI) D Y Chandrachud, comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, was hearing the case.

Senior advocate Rakesh Dwivedi, appearing for the state, submitted that less than 50% of the work has been completed, and the rest will follow soon.

"There have been logistical delays due to floods etc. A total of 6,178 CCTVs were to be installed," Dwivedi said and assured the top court that, most of the work will be completed by October 15.

Lawyer Vrinda Grover, appearing for the victim's parents, alleged that the photograph of the girl is still circulating on the social media. She sought a nodal officer and email of Govt of India. There is also a film that will be released on RG Kar incident. To this, the CJI asked the Solicitor General (SG) Tushar Mehta, for the CBI, if you could find a person in the Cyber Security unit of the IT Ministry who can actually oversee which clips to be pulled down.

"We direct the Ministry of Electronics and IT to notify a nodal officer in relation to any uploading of unauthorised publication."

Senior lawyer Karuna Nundy, appearing for some petitioners, said that many people who have been named and told about the financial irregularities are still in power, and hence, there is a threat.

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Monday disputed the Central government's claim of creating "80 million new jobs" over the past few years and asserted that no "spin-doctoring" can take away from the fact that 2014-24 has seen "jobless growth".

Citing an RBI report, Prime Minister Narendra Modi recently said that 8 crore new jobs were created in the country in the last 3-4 years.

Congress general secretary in-charge of communications, Jairam Ramesh, said the government is spreading half-truths. "The claim of 8 crore jobs initially emerged from the RBI KLEMS data, which we had earlier countered on July 15, 2024. The government's spin doctors have now mustered another statistic — that of 6.2 crore net subscribers joining the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) database between September 2017 and March 2024. Both claims are based on half-truths," he said.

A large part of the claimed "employment growth" is recording unpaid household work done by women as "employment", Ramesh said.

Amidst the poor economic climate, the share of the salaried and formal employment in the labour market has decreased and workers are moving to low-productivity informal and agricultural jobs, which KLEMS is capturing as jobs created, he pointed out.

He said the government cites the addition of 6.2 crore net subscribers in the EPFO database to show record employment growth, without revealing the full picture.

"The Supreme Court verdict in 2020 required the EPFO to include contractual workers at any establishment that employs more than 20 people. A substantial number of workers who were already employed are now being reflected in EPFO data. These are not new jobs created," Ramesh said.

Fadnavis to watch out for in BJP's likely reshuffle after assembly polls

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP could be in for a significant organisational reshuffle post polls in J&K and Haryana, party sources have indicated. This is likely to see the induction of a senior Maharashtra leader into the Union cabinet at a senior level or within the party setup.

Party sources indicate that the leadership is keen on filling key cabinet posts, particularly in ministries now managed by Union ministers who hold additional responsibilities.

It has led to speculation about Maharashtra Deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis, known for his considerable organisational and administrative expertise.

Sources say the party may be contemplating the elevation of a seasoned Union minister to the position of national president. "The timing of these decisions will largely depend on the results of the party's recent membership drive, the first phase of which concluded on September 25. The second phase, focusing on active membership, is set to launch in October, further shaping the party's strategic direction," said a BJP source.

The outcomes from J&K and Haryana are being seen as pivotal in determining the emerging organisational landscape.

Sources said the party may also think of the potential involvement of a former woman MP in the Delhi assembly polls due in the first half of 2025.

A senior functionary noted that various names are doing the rounds as the potential face of party's national president, with the election process anticipated to commence in November, in line with the party's internal timeline.

"Vinod Tawde, who is spearheading the party's membership drive and in-charge of Bihar BJP, is known for his organisational experience and abilities. His is among a few names being discussed for the top party post after Devendra Fadnavis," said a source.

Other names being talked about are Dr K Laxman (BJP OBC Morcha national president) and Sudha Yadav, who is also member of the Central Parliamentary Board and Central Election Committee.

"Sudha Yadav is well educated with a PhD in Chemistry from IIT Roorkee and has a good impression within the party and Sangh," said a senior party leader.

The name of Union minister Bhupendra Yadav is also prominently figuring as a probable face for the new party chief. He, along with railway minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, are assigned the task of overseeing Maharashtra elections.

Yadav is considered close to Amit Shah. "If a significant reshuffle takes place, it will be to prepare the party for upcoming electoral challenges, emphasizing the importance of experienced leaders in key roles," said a party leader.

'In my struggles, people never gave up on me'

What advice do you have for today's actors?

Work hard and focus on your craft and karma (duty and struggle), not just the results. Aspiring actors should have dedication, resilience, and the motivation to overcome obstacles. My life hasn't been easy, but when the results came, the struggles faded away. God is kind, and everyone will eventually reap the rewards of their hard work. I did not get anything on a platter; I had to fight for everything.

How do you view the changing landscape of films compared to your era?

Change is a constant with time, and it should be embraced. Film production has evolved, reflecting societal concerns and advances in technology. It's essential to adapt while remaining meaningful in our storytelling. Change happens over time and should be clearly visible).

How do you feel after being nominated to the Phalke Award?

I'm overwhelmed as I struggle to express my joy. I'm grateful to everyone who has supported me through my journey, from the streets of Kolkata to the film industry in Mumbai. This award is a testament to those who never gave up on me.

Who will you dedicate this award to?

I dedicate this award to my family, my fans, my state, and my beloved Bharat. This honour also brings back memories of my journey from Kolkata to Mumbai, where I faced hunger as I slept in gardens.

Do you think the Phalke Award came to you a little late?

Not at all. Everything has its own time. When it comes, it's meant to be. I believe that life unfolds as it should, so I have no complaints—just gratitude.... In life, everything happens at its own time.

Do you think films today focus more on commercial pursuits?

I believe there should be a balance, and patriotic films are important. There's definitely a place for stories that serve national interests.

How did you react to the recent RG Kar incident?

Like everyone else, I was shaken by it. We all want justice, and it's crucial that the guilty are held accountable. Women's safety must always be a priority.

What are your thoughts on PM Modi's wishes for you?

I'm deeply thankful to him for his wishes. I appreciate everyone who has reached out to congratulate me. I'm overwhelmed by all the love and support.

26 arrested in multi-state crackdown against cybercrime syndicate: CBI

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) late on Sunday night conducted a multi-state crackdown against a cybercrime syndicate by arresting 26 individuals for allegedly defrauding people across the globe, officials said on Monday.

As part of its 'Operation Chakra-III', the CBI teams raided 32 different places across Pune, Hyderabad, Ahmedabad and Visakhapatnam late on Sunday night.

"These operations have resulted in seizure of critical digital evidence and incriminating material. About 951 items have been seized, including electronic devices, mobile phones, laptops, financial information, communication records and incriminating material used by this cybercrime network to defraud victims," a senior official said.

According to the officials, four call centres — VC Inconformities Pvt

Vardhaman CEO duped of ₹7 crore, 2 arrested

Cyber fraudsters hailing from Assam, West Bengal and Delhi duped Padma Bhushan awardee and Vardhaman Group CEO SP Oswal of ₹7 crore. The accused duped the 82-year-old textile industrialist by posing as CBI officers and executing a well-devised plan, even enacting a fake online Supreme Court hearing. Punjab Police have arrested two of them and recovered ₹5.25 crore from them.

Ltd at Regent Plaza, Pune; VC Infrometrix Pvt Ltd, Murli Nagar, Visakhapatnam; Vijay Solutions, Hyderabad; and Atriya Global Services Pvt Ltd, Visakhapatnam — were among the places raided by the CBI sleuths.

The officials further said that the investigative teams intercepted 170 people engaged in live online criminal activities across the four call centers.

Later, in a statement, a CBI spokesperson said, "The cybercriminals targeted as part of this operation were involved in a range of illicit activities, including impersonating as tech support services and approaching victims, especially in the USA, on the pretext that the victim's systems have been hacked." He went on to add that the victims "were convinced by the criminals that their identities had been stolen" and that "a large number of unauthorised transactions were being made in their bank accounts".

Army to increase helicopter fleet in Ladakh sector

MAYANK SINGH @ Leh

ARMY aviation assets in Ladakh, which faces active fronts with China and Pakistan, are going to be beefed up, not only for the offensive and defensive roles but also for deployments in assisting the civil support to handle bad weather conditions in the region.

With the standoff in eastern Ladakh with China since May 2020, the aviation arm has been strengthened, Brigadier Gurdeep Singh said. "Our tasks have increased manifold, flying hours have increased. We may see more helicopters being inducted here," said the top aviator of the Fire and Fury Corps.

Army aviators operate all through the year in a dynamic condition, fulfilling multiple roles as the brigade maintains places in Gargil and Leh along with Siachen Glacier, the world's highest battlefield. "The Army has a variety of helicopters for reconnaissance, besides various tasks such as the induction and de-induction of troops, and for casualty evaluation," said Brigadier Singh.

Army commandos conduct a special operation exercise in Leh | MAYANK SINGH

This place throws up challenges and requires special preparations, said Colonel Randeep Pathania, who is commanding a unit at Leh.

"We fly from approximately 12,000 feet and go up to 18,000 feet. We have a varied terrain and icy heights of glaciers, dry and cold deserts of eastern Ladakh and we have hilly terrains in western Ladakh — Drass and Kargil. Each sector is unique," said Col Pathania.

"We need to understand the machine and all aspects of the machine so that we can undertake flying anytime," he said.

"Aviators who are posted here are already trained. But most of them have not operated at high altitudes, so it's a continuous process to train them under conditions where the temperature drops to minus 50°C. For the technical staff, it's a challenge to work early in the morning during winters," said

Brigadier Gurdeep.

The place requires additional practices, besides fuel, gas and lubes to keep the machines operational. "The maintenance staff are the soul of this brigade who keep the machines operational through the year, said the Brigadier.

The Fire and Fury Corps is operationally one of the most sensitive corps and synergy is needed between, not only with other aviation assets, but also with ground formations spread across a large area. "An aviation squadron regularly practices with various formations so that one plan can come out and the role is understood by one and all during operations," says Lt Col Amit Ansal, also from EME.

For the brigade, challenges multiply in winters when the roads are closed due to snow. In addition to the military role, the aviation brigade "is always there for Ladakh and for the civil administration as well when needed". The Brigade has been instrumental in election time as it flies officials to the cutoff areas of Ladakh.

● 5,060 polling stations across 7 districts for final battle in J&K ● Top Congress leaders head for Haryana

J&K last phase: Will BJP retain position in Jammu?

Polling officials during distribution of EVMs ahead of elections | PTI

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE third and final phase of the J&K Assembly polls for 40 seats will be held on Tuesday. The big question is whether BJP would repeat its 2014 performance from the Jammu region and whether MP Er Rashid's magic that was on display in parliamentary polls would work again in north Kashmir this time in his presence and changed political situation.

These 40 Assembly seats include 24 in four districts in Jammu and 16 in three districts of north Kashmir. As many as 415 candidates are in the fray and about 39.18 lakh electors are eligible to vote.

The authorities have set up 5,060 polling stations across seven districts for the polls, which is the first Assembly poll in J&K post Article 370 abrogation and bifurcation of the erstwhile state into two UTs.

The third phase will be a high-stake battle for BJP, which is banking on its good showing in the Jammu region for forming a government in J&K.

The party won all 25 seats in 2014 polls from the region. It also won both parliamentary seats from the region recently but to the concern of the party, its vote share dropped by 5-10%. It was the Congress gain.

"This time there is no BJP wave. In fact there is resentment against the BJP due to varied reasons which also includes growing unemployment in the state, rising power bills and downgrading J&K state into a Union Territory and holding Assembly polls after 10 years," said a local resident.

'In past, Jamaat made a blunder by not contesting polls'

SAYAR Ahmed Reshi, the leader of the banned Jamaat-e-Islami, is contesting from south Kashmir's Kulgam as an independent. In an interview with Fayaz Wani, Sayar says that not contesting the elections in the past was a historical blunder of Jamaat. Excerpts:

Jamaat is contesting after 1987. How is the people's response?

Overwhelming... People from all sections of society participated enthusiastically in my campaign. Even Kashmiri Pandits are supporting me.

What prompted you to contest despite a ban on Jamaat?

One cannot work under the Jamaat banner; but as a citizen of the country, one can carry out his/her activities. There is uncertainty among thousands of Jamaat-run school passouts. There is a need to revive welfare organisations that were earlier closed because of the ban.

Was Jamaat wrong by not participating in the past polls?

Had we contested, today, Jamaat would have been a force to reckon with. It was a historical blunder not to contest the polls. Many accuse the Jamaat of being a BJP proxy. Had it been so, then there would have been no ban on us and our leaders and workers would not have been in jail.

The BJP says that laws have been framed for farmers. My question is if laws were framed for them, then why are farmers out on roads? They know money will be taken out from their pockets

Rahul Gandhi

Saini hits out at Rahul

Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini hit out at Rahul accusing him of visiting the state for "tourism" rather than addressing pressing issues. He accused him of lacking concrete action plans for the problems he has projected. Addressing a meet in Kaithal, Saini challenged Rahul to explain why the Congress failed to deliver in its tenure

HARPREET BAIWA @ Chandigarh

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Monday accused Prime Minister Narendra Modi of working for industrialists, as he targeted the BJP-led government at the Centre over issues such as the farmers' welfare, Agnipath scheme and unemployment.

Addressing a rally in Naraingarh in Ambala district ahead of the October 5 Assembly polls in Haryana, he said the fight was between the ideologies of the Congress and the BJP. He asserted that the Congress would form a government in the state and bring about change.

"On the one hand there is justice (Congress) and on the other (BJP) there is injustice (BJP)", he said.

He claimed that money keeps flowing into the account of industrialist Gautam Adami "like a tsunami" while the common man struggles. Rahul was joined by his sister and party leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and senior leader KC Venugopal at the rally.

Former chief minister Bhupinder Singh Hooda and his bete noire and Sirsa MP Kumari Selja were also present at the rally as the Congress sought to present a united face amid sharp attack from rival parties, including the BJP, over reports of infighting in its Haryana unit.

As the rally concluded, Rahul ensured that all leaders on the stage, including Selja and Hooda, raised their hands together in a show of unity. Meanwhile Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini hit out at Rahul accusing him of visiting the state for "tourism" rather than addressing pressing issues.

Addressing a rally in Naraingarh, Rahul said it belongs to big industrialists and added that the fight is between the Congress and BJP and their ideologies.

"The BJP government says that laws have been framed for farmers. My question is if laws were framed for them, then why are farmers out on roads? Farmers know money will be taken out from their pockets in more ways than one," he said. CM Nayab Singh Saini hit out at Gandhi, accusing him of lacking concrete action plans for the problems he has projected. Addressing a meeting in Kaithal, Saini challenged Rahul to explain why the Congress failed to deliver in its tenure.

He also questioned the track record of the Congress on job distribution, accusing them of nepotism and bribery.

In Bhiwani, UP CM Yogi Adityanath said: "Bhagwan Shri Ram has returned to Ayodhya. The whole nation is celebrating, but Congress hates it. This is the difference between the culture of Ram and the culture of Rome."

Lakhs affected as river embankments breached in Bihar after heavy rains

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THE flood situation in Bihar worsened on Monday after the embankments of the Kosi river in Darbhanga and the Bagmati river in Sitamarhi were breached, affecting over 1.6 million people.

While the Kosi breached its embankment near Kartarpur block, inundating the Kiratpur and Ghanshyampur villages in Darbhanga late Sunday night, a seepage was reported in the embankment of the Bagmati in Sitamarhi district.

State water resources minister Vijay Kumar Choudhary said that six embankment breaches had been reported across the state so far. Some embankment breaches had already been plugged, and efforts were underway to repair others. Excessive water pressure also damaged the embankments of the Bagmati river at Madhkaul village in Sitamarhi and the embankment of the Gandak river in West Champaran. According to officials, his resulted in the inundation of areas in the Valmiki Tiger Reserve.

India issues advisory for its citizens in Nepal

India issues advisory in Nepal in the wake of floods that have caused devastation. It is working in coordination with Nepalese authorities to help any Indians that may be stranded in the deluge. According to reports from Nepal nearly 200 people have died and 30 are missing cording to officials, his resulted in the inundation of areas in the Valmiki Tiger Reserve.

Meanwhile, the water discharge from the Valmikinagar and Birpur barrages across the Gandak and Kosi rivers, respectively, reduced in the morning after the torrential rains in Nepal subsided.

Senior BJP leader and deputy chief minister Samrat Choudhary met Union Jal Shakti Minister C R Patil and handed him a memorandum seeking a proper solution to the threat of floods in Bihar to prevent the loss of life and property. "The matter of construction of a new dam (barrage) on the Kosi river within the Indian border, away from Nepal, was also raised with the Union Minister as he agreed to take immediate action," Choudhary told the media.

As per reports, flood water is flowing above embankments in Valmikinagar and Kiratpur in Darbhanga. No casualties have been reported so far due to the floods, the sources added.

The Bihar government has sounded an alert across northern, southern, and central parts of the state following heavy water discharges from the Birpur and Valmikinagar barrages over the weekend.

In view of the flood situation turning serious, six additional National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) teams from Varanasi and Ranchi are being deployed, supplementing the 12 NDRF and 22 SDRF teams already engaged in rescue efforts.

10 UP cops suspended in cow slaughter case

NAMITA BAIJAI @ Lucknow

TAKING cognizance of a complaint lodged regarding cow slaughter and the involvement of police personnel in the same case in Rambagh police station area of Mirzapur district, Superintendent of Police Abhinandan suspended 10 police personnel, including sub-inspectors, head constables, and constables on Sunday.

The axe fell on the cops following a complaint lodged by sitting BJP MLA Ratnakar Mishra, who stressed that cow slaughter would not be tolerated under CM Yogi Adityanath's rule. According to sources, MLA Ratnakar Mishra lodged the complaint demanding stern action against those involved in cow slaughter racket.

Notably, police authorities received information about presence of banned animal meat in Rambagh Quresh locality under the city police station's jurisdiction on Sunday. Acting on the information, Mirzapur SP inspected the suspected locations along with city police team and field units.

As per the SP, the police team collected samples of the suspected meat for forensic examination and detained seven to eight persons for questioning and initiated legal actions as per the rules.

Meanwhile, Mirzapur municipal corporation also got active and started verifying licences of nearby shops. However, the situation at the site remained normal. Among those police personnel who were suspended by the SP included two sub-inspectors, six head constables, and two constables. All 10 were suspended with immediate effect over serious allegations of negligence and charges of dereliction of duty. Moreover, a departmental inquiry had also been initiated against the erring group of cops.

Spl status for desi cows in poll-bound Maha

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AHEAD of Maharashtra assembly elections, the state cabinet on Monday decided to give 'Rajmata Gomata' status to indigenous cows.

A government resolution said, "Since Vedic times, the significance of cows in human life is religious, scientific, and economical and hence it is called as Kamdhenu." Desi cow milk has high nutritional value and is an important part of the human diet, the government resolution said. The resolution highlighted the concerns about the rapid fall in the number of desi cows in the state. "The newly accorded status to the animal would encourage farmers to raise cows," it added.

Some of the indigenous cow breeds in Maharashtra are Devni and Lalkandari in Marathwada, Khillar in western Maharashtra, Dangi in northern Maharashtra and Gavli in Vidarbha.

There are 46,13,632 desi cows in the state, according to the 2019 census, a drop of 20.69 per cent compared to the earlier census figures. The cabinet also approved a proposal by the animal husbandry department to give a subsidy of ₹50 per day for each indigenous cow. This decision is expected to benefit over 46 lakh cow owners across the state.

In another major decision, the state cabinet accepted the second and third reports of the Justice Shinde committee, set up to finalise the protocol for issuing Kunbi-Maratha and Maratha-Kunbi certificates based on historical records.

The acceptance of the Justice Shinde panel report by the state cabinet is a significant move to placate the Maratha community protesting for inclusion in the OBC category, amid a backlash by backward communities.

Three jobless tribal youths surrender as 'Maoists' for govt incentives, held

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THREE youths have been arrested in Chhattisgarh for posing as Naxalites to take benefits of the government's rehabilitation scheme introduced for the Maoists who wish to surrender and join the mainstream, police said.

The youths, all educated tribals in their late twenties, attempted to misguide officials claiming their association with the outlawed banned CPI (Maoist) as its active members and expressed their desire to surrender before the Balod district police chief.

Madhu Modiyam and his relative Manku, both from Bijapur in south Bastar, along with their accomplice Om Prakash Netam from Mohala Manpur in Rajnandgaon district, presented themselves before the senior police officials of Balod district.

To impress upon the police, they claimed to have become frustrated with the anti-development and anti-tribal ideology of the left-wing extremists and so decided to surrender. They also claimed to have been earlier involved in several incidents of Maoist violence, police said.

"During the verification process, we got suspicious about the three youths. And we soon found that their claims are untrue and fabricated. All three of them were from regions having the presence of Maoists, so they might have got information about the surrender and rehabilitation policy of the government. They concocted a story professing to be active members of Manpur Mohala Area Committee of Maoists in Rajnandgaon," Balod additional superintendent of police Ashok Kumar Joshi told this newspaper.

"Why the youths attempted to mislead the police in Balod district remains under investigation. But it seems their intention was to gain benefits from the surrender policy. They were perhaps not employed. All three have been arrested and a case has been registered against them under the Section 319 (2) (whoever cheats by personation can be punished with imprisonment for up to five years, a fine, or both) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) that came into effect on 1 July," Joshi said.

Meanwhile, five Naxalites, including a woman, surrendered before police in Bastar region even as two Maoists were arrested from the forest, officials said.

Manipur DGP assigned to talk to Kuki abductors

GUWAHATI: The Manipur government has rushed Director General of Police (DGP) Rajiv Singh to the Kangpokpi district to negotiate with "people concerned" to secure the release of two Meitei youth held hostage allegedly by Kuki militants. Replying to a WhatsApp query from this newspaper on whether the DGP has left Imphal, Chief Minister N Biren Singh on Monday said "he has already gone". It was not clear if the top cop is negotiating with the abductors or other Kuki leaders. Earlier in the day, Singh told the media in Imphal that efforts were being made to ensure the duo's unharmed release. "State and central governments are trying very hard to rescue them safely. We are sending the DGP to the district to talk with the concerned (people). Till they are released safely, we cannot say anything but we are trying our best..." he stated.

A star in the 80s, Chakraborty has had a decreased presence on the silver screen in recent times. Although he was part of Bengali-language films like Kabuliwala (2023) and Projanapati (2022), his last Hindi outing was the controversial The Kashmir Files (2022).

Chakraborty also served as the head judge or 'grandmaster' on the popular dance reality series Dance India Dance from 2009 to 2018.

Mithun Da, as he was better known, made his acting debut with Mrinal Sen's 1976 film Mrigayaa, for which he won the National Award for Best Actor. He bagged two more National Awards for 1992's Tahader Katha (best actor) and 1998's Swami Vivekananda (best supporting actor).

Mithun Da's claim to fame, however, was his distinctive dancing style in the 1982 super-hit Disco Dancer, which is widely credited for ushering in the era of disco dancing in India through chartbusters like I AM A Disco Dancer.

Manish Sisodia lands at meditation centre

Former Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia, who was released after spending 17 months in jail on corruption charges, visited the meditation place of Swami Vivekananda in Almora district.

Describing the experience as profound, he said, "It would be insufficient even a lifetime to spend on this sacred land". Sisodia visited the meditation site of Swami Vivekananda at Kakridaghat Dham, where he offered prayers at the ancient Katyur Mahadev and Bhairav temples and meditated under the sacred tree where Swami Vivekananda attained enlightenment.

State to assign unique ID to every land parcel

Uttarakhand's Revenue Department is gearing up to assign a unique ID to every land parcel in the state, providing detailed information about each individual's land area. This initiative, supported by the Central Government's Ministry of Rural Development, aims to bring transparency and efficiency to land records. Cabinet Minister Subodh Uniyal revealed that the project is underway, stating, "Currently, land details are obtained through 'Khasra-Khatauni', but this new system will provide a streamlined and organized approach." The department has already completed the task in 3,000 villages and will cover the rest by December.

Top Hezbollah commanders killed

Israel has killed several of them in a series of strikes targeting the Iran-backed terrorist outfit's top brass in Lebanon, rendering it headless

Ali Karake

Considered Hezbollah's number three military commander, Karake was killed on Sept 27. Karake was a member of the Jihad Council. He had survived several assassination attempts

Mohammed Kobeissi

On Sept 25, a strike killed Ibrahim Mohammed Kobeissi, who commanded several military units including a guided missiles unit. He had knowledge in the field of missiles, Israel said

Wissam Tawil

Tawil, a commander of Hezbollah's Al-Radwan unit, was killed in an Israeli air strike in January on his vehicle in southern Lebanon, along with two others

Nabil Qaouq

Qaouq held the position of deputy head of Hezbollah's central council when he was killed in an air strike on Sept 28. He had served as Hezbollah's military commander in southern Lebanon

Fuad Shukur

A strike on July 30 killed Fuad Shukur, one of Hezbollah's top military commanders. Shukur, in his early 60s, played a key role in drone and rocket attacks on Israeli forces. Shukur helped found Hezbollah during Lebanon's 1975-90 civil war and became a key adviser to Nasrallah

Srur

A strike on Sept 26 killed Srur, the head of Hezbollah's drone unit since 2020. He had also played a significant role in Hezbollah's involvement in Syria's civil war from 2013

PUTIN VOWS TO REACH ALL GOALS IN UKRAINE

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin vowed on Monday to achieve all his "goals" in Ukraine and celebrated the second anniversary of annexing four Ukrainian regions, as his army claimed fresh advances in the conflict.

Moscow has captured dozens of Ukrainian towns and villages this year, pressing forward even as Kyiv mounts a cross-border offensive into Russian territory.

"The truth is on our side. All goals set will be achieved," Putin said in a video address marking what he calls "Reunification Day" — when Moscow annexed four southern and eastern Ukrainian regions in 2022.

He also repeated his justification for sending troops into Ukraine, saying he was protecting Russian speakers against a "neo-Nazi dictatorship" that aimed to "cut them off forever from Russia, their historic homeland".

"Together we are defending a safe, prosperous future for our children and grandchildren," Putin said.

Russia claimed to annex the Ukrainian regions of Lugansk, Donetsk, Zaporizhzhia and Kherson in September 2022, but it does not fully control any of them.

The Kremlin has pursued a relentless assault in eastern Ukraine in recent months, pressing its advantage as Ukrainian soldiers grapple with exhaustion and relentless bombardment.

The Russian army said Monday its troops had "liberated" the Ukrainian village of Nelipivka, which had a population of around 1,000 before the conflict.

It lies just north of the Ukrainian town of New York, where Kyiv claimed to have made rare gains earlier in September.

The main target of Moscow's assault in recent months has been the Ukrainian logistics hub of Pokrovsk, a city on road and rail routes that supply Kyiv's forces across the frontline.

Ukraine's Foreign Minister Andriy Sybiga was in Budapest on Monday to meet Hungarian counterpart Peter Szijarto.

Russia to spend 30% more on defence next year

Moscow: Russia plans to boost its defence budget by almost 30% next year as it diverts resources to its Ukraine offensive, spending more on the military than welfare and education combined, a draft budget showed on Monday. Moscow had already ramped up military spending to levels not seen since the Soviet Union era. The latest planned increase in spending will take Russia's defence budget to 13.5 trillion rubles ($145 billion) in 2025, a document published on the parliamentary website showed, up from 10.4 trillion in 2024.

JERUSALEM

ISRAELI troops have entered Hezbollah tunnels dug near the border with Israel as part of small-scale forays into southern Lebanon, as it gears up for a threatened ground incursion, according to a report in a US newspaper Monday.

According to the Monday report in The WSJ, the missions, described as "targeted," have involved special forces entering a network of subterranean warrens Hezbollah is widely understood to have dug near the Blue Line separating Israel from Lebanon.

The report, which cited unnamed sources familiar with the matter, said the raids have taken place over the past months, as well as more recently, with troops "probing" and gathering intelligence, as activity ramps up ahead of a possible ground offensive, Times of Israel reported. Israel's Defence Minister Yoav Gallant said ground forces could be used against Hezbollah militants in Lebanon, adding military operations will go on despite the killing of the group's leader Hassan Nasrallah. Gallant made the comments while speaking to Israeli troops deployed to the northern border where cross-border fire with Hezbollah continued for nearly a year. "We will use all the means that may be required — your forces, other forces, from the air, from the sea, and on land," Gallant said.

"The elimination of Nasrallah is not an important step, but it is not the final one".

US President Joe Biden indicated Monday he was opposed to Israeli ground operations in Lebanon and called for a ceasefire, as tensions spiraled after the killing of Hezbollah leader Hassan Nasrallah.

"I'm more aware than you might know and I'm comfortable with them stopping. We should have a ceasefire now," Biden told reporters when he was asked if he was aware of reports of Israeli plans for a limited operation, and if he was comfortable with one going ahead.

Meanwhile, Hezbollah's acting leader vowed on Monday to keep battling Israel and said the Lebanese militant group was prepared for a long fight even after much of its top command was wiped out.

Despite the heavy blow Hezbollah has suffered in recent weeks, acting leader Naim Kassem said in a televised statement that if Israel decides to launch a ground offensive, the group's fighters are ready. He said the commanders killed have already been replaced.

"Israel was not able to affect our (military) capabilities," Kassem said in a televised statement, the first time any senior Hezbollah figure has been seen since Nasrallah was killed. "There are deputy commanders and there are replacements in case a commander is wounded in any post."

He added that Hezbollah, which fought Israel to a stalemate in their monthlong war in 2006, anticipated "the battle could be long".

ASIA MATTERS

COURT ORDERS EXTRADITION OF VIETNAMESE

A court on Monday ordered the extradition of a Vietnamese activist detained in Bangkok, despite fears among rights groups that he could be at risk if sent home. The Bangkok Criminal Court granted Vietnam's request for the extradition of Y Quynh Bdp, who was detained in the Thai capital in June. The co-founder of the Montagnards Stand for Justice group was convicted in absentia in Vietnam in January on allegations that he was involved in organising anti-government riots in Vietnam last June. He now has 30 days to file an appeal of the ruling. AFP

GAS TARIFF TO FALL FOR NEXT THREE MONTHS

Gas and electricity tariffs will go down for the next three months due to lower energy and fuel costs, The Straits Times reported. From Oct 1 to Dec 31, households supplied by grid operator SP Group will see a 2.6% decrease in electricity tariffs compared with the previous quarter, the group said in a statement on Sept 30. For households, this amounts to a tariff of 29.1 cents per kilowatt-hour (kWh) before the goods and services tax, down from 29.88 cents currently. The drop in tariff — by 0.78 cent per kWh — is due to lower energy costs, said SP Group.

IMMIGRATION OFFICERS WITH ARMS

The government authorised immigration officers to carry firearms while on duty, following the death of an officer in the line of duty, Jakarta Globe reported. DG Silmy Karim said, "We've already witnessed a tragic loss," referencing an incident in 2023 when an officer was fatally stabbed by a foreign national trying to escape detention.

Flood, landslide toll in Nepal hits 200

KATHMANDU

THE death toll from rain-induced floods and landslides across Nepal reached nearly 200 on Monday, with at least 30 people still missing, according to the police.

Incessant rainfall from last Friday triggered floods and landslides, wreaking havoc in the Himalayan nation.

At least 192 people have been killed in the continuous rainfall, floods, landslides and inundation, officials from the Nepal Police said. They said 94 others have also been injured nationwide in the disaster, while 30 others remain missing.

The government has given high priority to search, rescue, and relief operations, MyRepublica news portal reported, quoting Home Ministry Spokesperson Rishiram Tiwari. Security agencies across the country have been deployed for search, rescue and relief efforts, and more than 4,500 individuals have been rescued so far, the report said.

While those injured are receiving free treatment, food and other emergency relief materials have been provided to others affected by the floods.

Numerous roads throughout the nation are severely damaged, and all routes leading to the capital city, Kathmandu, are still blocked, leaving thousands of travellers stranded, The Kathmandu Post newspaper reported.

Kathmandu's main river, the Bagmati, was flowing above danger levels after incessant rain lashed large swathes of eastern and central Nepal on Friday and Saturday, a report published by the International Centre for Integrated Mountain Development said. PTI

No decision to curb F&O trade at Sebi meet

Sebi statement didn't mention anything about whether the board discussed allegations against the chairperson

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE board of the markets regulator Sebi, which met on Monday, has left a much-awaited decision on curbing the fast-rising derivatives market trading by retail investors who have been losing heavily from that but has taken a slew of other pro-investor measures.

The 23 page statement issued by the Sebi did not mention anything about whether the board discussed the allegations against the chairperson.

Some of the key decisions include slashing number of days to complete a rights issue to 23 working days from present 317 days, increasing T+0 settlement to top 500 stocks from present 25 and has decided not to push for instantaneous settlement; measures to deepen the bond markets by easing disclosure norms about debenture trustees and introduced single fil-

Sebi approved regulatory framework for new investment product class in mutual fund business by introducing the liberalised MF lite

key decisions include slashing number of days to complete a rights issue to 23 working days from present 317 days, increasing T+0 settlement to top 500 stocks from present 25 and has decided not to push for instantaneous settlement; measures to deepen the bond markets by easing disclosure norms (MF Lite) framework for passively managed fund schemes.

Amending the mutual funds regulations of 1996, the Sebi introduced new investment product called MF lite under the existing mutual fund framework. The new product will bridge the gap between MFs and portfolio management services in terms of flexibility in portfolio construction. The new product also aims to curtail the proliferation of unregistered and unauthorized investment schemes/entities, which often promise unrealistic high returns and exploit investors' expectations for better yields, leading to potential financial risks.

It has also allowed investors the option to trade in the secondary market (cash segment) either using UPI block mechanism (Asba-like for secondary markets), or 3-in-1 trading facility in addition to the current mode of trading.

TAFE files case against AGCO over brand use

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

A corporate war is brewing between the Chennai-based TAFE, the second largest producer of tractors in India and the third-largest in the world, and the US-based agricultural equipment maker AGCO Corporation. TAFE has filed a contempt case against AGCO in Chennai for trying to wrest the Indian company's rights to use the Massey Ferguson brand in India.

TAFE is a strategic investor and the largest single shareholder in AGCO, holding 16.3% stake. In response to AGCO's termination of agreements with TAFE on Monday, the Indian company moved Madras High Court and petitioned that AGCO has acted in contempt of an earlier court order which had directed both parties to keep status quo as on April 29.

The developments follow TAFE's filings in the US where it sought Board changes and a split in positions of Chairman and CEO. The Indian company believes the CEO of AGCO is using commercial contracts to push back its ownership interest. TAFE had flagged concerns over issues plaguing the US company, including flaws with its corporate governance, inadequate engagement with shareholder and financial and operational performance in key areas. It claimed AGCO sought to stifle TAFE's ability to seek changes via contentious moves with respect to the brand usage.

When TAFE asserted its claims over the ownership of Massey Ferguson brand in a case filed before the HC, the court ruled in its favour with an interim status quo order. TAFE claims that any attempt to disturb the position as of April 29 will mean violation of court order.

The partnership between the two companies grew bigger after TAFE collaborated with Massey Ferguson to produce tractors locally, allowing them to tap into the growing Indian agricultural market. Over the years, TAFE has expanded its manufacturing capabilities and continues to be the largest producer of Massey Ferguson-branded tractors.

TRAI mandates whitelisting of web links via SMS from today

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

MOBILE phone users in India from Tuesday onwards will receive only approved web links via SMS, as per mandated by Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI). This regulation, effective from October 1, 2024, requires telecom service providers to ensure that only whitelisted links are transmitted via SMS. The move will reduce the risk of users being directed to malicious websites.

TRAI in August issued a directive, instructing all access providers to block any traffic containing URLs, Android Package Kits (APKs) or over-the-top (OTT) links that have not been whitelisted.

Before the regulatory body enforced the new rule, previously, links in SMS messages could lead to unknown sources, posing threats of financial loss or privacy breaches. Under the new rules, any link received via SMS will be from a verified source, enhancing user security. The initial compliance deadline for telcos was set for September 1, but it has now been extended to October 1, giving operators additional time to implement the necessary changes.

Therefore, it is believed the directive will have some disruption in receiving messages from banking and other services that provide updates via SMS. However, the regulatory body also mentioned that so far, over 3,000 registered senders have complied with this requirement by whitelisting more than 70,000 links.

Income tax rule changes effective from Oct 1

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN the Budget 2024, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced several modifications to income tax rules, some of which will take effect starting October 1, 2024. The updates include taxation on share buybacks, Aadhaar card, Securities Transaction Tax (STT), tax deducted at source (TDS) rates, and the introduction of the Direct Tax Vivad Se Vishwas Scheme 2024, all of which are part of the Finance Bill 2024.

From Oct 1, the sum paid by a domestic company for buyback of its own shares will be taxable as dividend in the hands of shareholders who received payment from such buyback and will be taxable at applicable rates.

"No deduction for cost of acquisition of such shares will be available. It would only generate a capital loss in the hands of the shareholder and in case in future the shareholder doesn't generate any other capital gain, such capital loss would be a waste," said Vivek Jalan, Partner - Tax Connect Advisory Services LLP.

In Budget 2024, the government announced reductions in TDS rates for various payment categories. The new TDS rates are now set at 2% instead of the previous 5% for payments under Sections 194DA, 194H, 194-IB, and 194M.

Additionally, the TDS rate for e-commerce operators has been lowered from 1% to just 0.1%. These changes will impact payments related to life insurance policies, commissions on lottery ticket sales, commission or brokerage fees and rent payments made by individuals or Hindu Undivided Families (HUFs).

Starting October 1, STT on futures and options (F&O) trading will see a surge. The tax rates for F&O securities will rise to 0.02% for futures and 0.1% for options. Income derived from share buybacks will be taxed as per the beneficiaries' taxable income. STT on options sales will rise from 0.0625% to 0.1% of the premium.

In Budget, the government had proposed elimination of the provision that permitted individuals to quote their Aadhaar Enrolment ID instead of their Aadhaar number. This decision is intended to tackle issues related to misuse and duplication of Permanent Account Numbers (PAN).

RBI review finds major lapses in gold loan market

Major deficiencies include shortcomings in use of third parties for sourcing, appraisal of loans; valuation of gold without presence of customer

Reserve Bank

Exposed deficiencies

Review exposed deficiencies in the way gold loan companies do business. It included onsite inspections of select entities and has uncovered irregularities in practices

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

A Reserve Bank review has found major lapses of regulations by gold loan players and has issued a major advisory to financial institutions conducting lending practices prompting the regulator to call for urgent reforms and has warned of strict supervisory actions for non-compliance with regulatory guidelines.

The over ₹10 trillion gold loan market is dominated by public sector banks as a few large NBFCs and is growing at over 18% given the rising indebtedness of the public and the rising gold prices which has crossed ₹7,800 a gram last week. People avail of gold loans mainly due to quick liquidity it offers. Gold loans are mostly used to meet both agricultural and non-agricultural financial needs. This review exposed multiple deficiencies in the way many gold loan companies conduct this business. The review also included onsite inspections of select supervised entities (SEs), and has uncovered a series of irregularities in gold loan practices.

"The major deficiencies include shortcomings in use of third parties for sourcing and appraisal of loans; valuation of gold without presence of the customer; inadequate due diligence and lack of end use monitoring of the loans; lack of transparency during auction of gold ornaments and jewellery on default by customers; weaknesses in monitoring of LTV; and incorrect application of risk-weights etc.," RBI said in a circular. In some cases, gold loan players incorrectly apply risk weights, a key metric used to assess the financial risk associated with loans, the RBI said Monday.

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE Production-linked Incentive (PLI) scheme is driving the growth in industrial output as the Annual Survey of Industries (ASI) showed that output grew by 21.5% in 2022-23, according to Niti Aayog. Gross Value Addition (GVA) by the industrial sector increased by 7.3% in current prices during the year, according to the ASI which was released on Monday.

According to the survey, the main drivers of this growth in 2022-23 were industries such as manufacture of basic metal, coke & refined petroleum products, food products, chemical and chemical products and motor vehicles. These industries together contributed about 58% of the total output of the sector. While presenting the survey, BVR Subrahmanyam, CEO of NITI Aayog, told the media that the growth has been across all sectors, but PLI sectors have been doing especially well.

"Wherever the growth is strong, you have a PLI scheme in operation be it metals, automobiles, food products.

All the sectors which have PLI are actually showing a far better growth rate," said the Niti Aayog CEO.

The Niti CEO also said that the survey results show people are unnecessarily criticizing industrial growth. He said that survey shows that manufacturing is not just growing fast but also generating jobs at a greater pace.

According to the survey, the industrial sector has added 2.2 million jobs since 2018-19 and 4.9 million since 2012-13. Over the previous survey for 2021-22, jobs in the industrial sector have grown from 17.2 million to 18.4 million. Annual wages per person has grown from ₹3.26 lakh to Rs 3.46 lakh, an increase of 6.3%.

According to ASI 2022-23, the top five states employing the highest number of persons in the industrial sector were Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh and Karnataka in ASI 2022-23. These states together contributed about 55% of total manufacturing employment in the year 2022-23.

In terms of GVA by Industrial sector, Maharashtra ranked first in 2022-23 followed by Gujarat, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and Uttar Pradesh. The top five states, taken together, contributed more than 54% of the total manufacturing GVA of the country in 2022-23.

Wherever the growth is strong, you have a PLI scheme in operation be it metals, automobiles, food products. All the sectors which have PLI are actually showing a far better growth rate

Rashmi Saluja remains with CARE as chairperson

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE Burman's effort to oust Rashmi Saluja from the board of Care Health Insurance Limited (CARE), a subsidiary of Religare Enterprises Ltd (REL), could not find success as the directors of CARE on Monday agreed that there exists no cause for removal of the current chairperson of the diversified financial company. CARE held its Annual General Meeting on Monday.

However, Kedaara Capital, which holds a 16% stake in CARE Health, voted against the reappointment of Saluja.

"The Directors of Care Health Insurance Limited ("CARE") reviewed the communication dated 27.09.2024 received from the proposed acquirers of Religare Enterprises ("REL") demanding the removal of Dr. Rashmi Saluja from the Board of Directors of CARE. In light of a legal opinion received by CARE, the Directors agreed that there exists no cause for removal of Dr. Rashmi Saluja and a suitable response is being sent to the Proposed Acquirers accordingly," stated a statement issued by Care Health Insurance.

The Proposed Acquirers are the Burman family who owns the leading FMCG brand Dabur. The Burmans, the largest stakeholder in REL, were seeking Saluja's removal as they allegedly said that she is "unsuitable" for reappointment as non-executive chair of Care Health.

As per the sources, employees of REL, who hold about 10% of CARE abstained from voting. Saluja's re-appointment in CARE is on the expected line given it was an ordinary resolution that required 50% voting in favour. REL, which holds a 64% stake in CARE, voted in favour of Saluja, securing a comfortable majority for her reappointment.

Sensex and Nifty plunge 1.5% each

New Delhi: Equity market fell sharply on Monday after hitting multiple highs last week as investors rushed to book profit amid valuation concerns and worsening geopolitical tensions, especially in the Middle East. At close, Sensex was down 1,272.07 points or 1.49% at 84,299.78, and Nifty50 declined 368.20 points or 1.41% at 25,810.80. This is biggest single-day fall for benchmarks in two months. ENS

Fiscal deficit in Apr-Aug at 27% of full-yr target

New Delhi: The Centre's fiscal deficit at the end of the first five months of the current fiscal touched 27% of the full-year target, government data showed on Monday. In absolute terms, the fiscal deficit -- the gap between expenditure and revenue -- was at ₹4,35,176 crore as of August-end, as per data released by the Controller General of Accounts. The deficit stood at 36% of the Budget Estimates (BE) in the corresponding period of 2023-24. ENS

BharatPe, Ashneer Grover settle disputes

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

AFTER about 2.9 years, fintech firm BharatPe and its former co-founder Ashneer Grover have reached a settlement and the latter will no longer be associated with the firm.

BharatPe in an official statement said the firm has arrived at an agreement with Grover. "As part of the settlement, Grover will not be associated with BharatPe in any capacity nor be a part of the shareholding of the company. Certain shares of Grover shall be transferred to the Resilient Growth Trust for the benefit of the company," it said.

Both parties have decided not to pursue the cases filed. Grover was holding 8% stake and this means this will be transferred to the family trust.

Grover's shares to be transferred to family trust

BharatPe in an official statement said the firm has arrived at an agreement with Grover. "As part of the settlement, Grover will not be associated with BharatPe in any capacity nor be a part of the shareholding of the company. Certain shares of Grover shall be transferred to the Resilient Growth Trust for the benefit of the company," it said.

Grover posted on X that he has reached a settlement with BharatPe. "I repose my faith in the management and board, who are doing great work in taking BharatPe forward in the right direction. I continue to remain aligned with the company's growth and success. I will no longer be associated with BharatPe in any capacity, nor be part of the capital table. My remaining shares will be managed by my Family Trust. Both parties have decided not to pursue cases filed. I hope BharatPe continues to grow and succeed for the benefit of all its stakeholders," he said on X. This has come 10 days after the Economic Offences Wing (EOW) of Delhi Police arrested a family member of Grover-Deepak Gupta in the case of alleged misappropriation of BharatPe's funds. Last month, the EOW arrested vendor Amit Bansal.

In May last year, the EOW filed an FIR against Grover, wife and family members. The FIR was for allegedly defrauding the company of ₹81.28 crore. The accusations against Grover and his family members include illegitimate payments of ₹7.6 crore to bogus HR consultants via 86 false and forged invoices and inflated and undue payments through passthrough vendors connected to the accused persons.

Neeraj and Klaus set to part ways as AFI scouts for new coach

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

ONE of the most rewarding coach-ward associations in Indian sport is set to end. Two-time Olympic medallist Neeraj Chopra is set to have a new coach next season. Klaus Bartonietz, who had been his coach since 2019, has conveyed his decision that he would not want to continue as coach beyond this season. The 75-year-old coach felt he was not growing younger and would like to spend some time with his family. This was confirmed by Adille Sumariwalla, the Athletics Federation of India (AFI) president. "He told us about this earlier this season because he is also not growing younger," said Sumariwalla. "He wanted to spend more time with his family."

The German bio-mechanic expert had been with Neeraj since his elbow injury in 2019. Before Klaus, Neeraj was training under Uwe Hohn but the legendary German javelin thrower's training rituals were not suiting Neeraj. This newspaper had indictated that this could be Neeraj's last season with Klaus and the Athletics Federation of India has confirmed the news.

The AFI chief said the German biomechanic expert helped Neeraj flourish as an athlete. "We feel that he also needs someone new after spending five years with Klaus," said Sumariwalla. "He also would need some changes in his thinking, psychology and even training. I think in a way it might be a good thing for him. Together we are looking for a good coach. We are looking for someone with whom Neeraj would be comfortable and also talking to a lot of people and hopefully we will get one soon. We will get him another good coach."

The AFI would want the veteran German coach to continue his association in training, especially the junior programme but everything depends on Klaus. Sumariwalla said that Klaus' work with Neeraj is beyond exemplary. "He has trained him to two Olympic medals, gold and silver; two world championships medals, again silver and gold, one Commonwealth Games gold, two Asian Games gold besides other Diamond League tities and wins," he said.

Not just that, Klaus had helped during his recovery after the elbow injury in 2019. Guiding Neeraj through his troubled groin injury too has been another highlight of the coach's ability. "That too was a tedious process and getting him to become world and Olympic champion... that's something very extraordinary," said Sumariwalla. "Even this time, managing the groin injury through these testing times. He helped him to a medal at the Olympics. It's a great job he has done." In what capacity Klaus will continue, is yet to be decided. On associating with Neeraj later, a lot would depend on the new coach, whether the two would be compatible or not and whether Klaus would want to continue. "We are in constant talks with the coach (Klaus) and will decide something favourable for all. Till the time he needs support, we will give him support." On Klaus working with the new coach, the AFI is yet to discuss.

Despite more than two days' of play getting washed out, India's willow merchants, in their bid to win the second Test, score at a breakneck pace to push Bangladesh to the wall in Kanpur

Batters day out

FIROZ MIRZA @Kanpur

NEVER in the 34.4 overs of their stint at the crease here at the Green Park Stadium in Kanpur on Monday did India's scoring rate drop below eight. The aggressive approach by Indian batters brought an otherwise dull game to life much to the delight of the fans.

When the match resumed in the morning, chances of a result in the game was almost nil but by the time the day's play ended, there seems to be a possibility of a positive result for the hosts thanks to their batters who scored runs at a breakneck pace. Such was the onslaught in the beginning that Rohit Sharma and Co completed 50 in just three overs giving a feel of T20 cricket. At times, it felt the openers — the India captain and Yashasvi Jaiswal — wanted to compensate the fans, who missed out on the action for two consecutive days due to rains and wet outfield. By the time they declared their innings at 285/9, a bagful of the records fell.

The skipper led from the front hammering a 11-ball 23 which was laced with three sixes and one four. Yashasvi, meanwhile, continued the rampage even as Sharma departed. His 51-ball 72 derailed Bangladesh bowlers. Shubman Gill too played his role but it was the pair of Virat Kohli (35-ball 47) and KL Rahul (68 off 43) that made the bowlers look listless. Matching each other stroke for stroke, all of them played fearless cricket with runs flowing from their willow at will. On their way to their final score, India recorded the fastest team 50, 100, 150, 200 and 250 in men's Tests. The Indian players slammed as many as 11 sixes and 28 fours. Out of their top seven batters, only two —

Rishabh Pant and Ravindra Jadeja — had a strike rate of below 100. India's assistant coach Morne Morkel said it was a part of their plan to force a result despite two days of play getting abandoned. "It was always a part of our game plan to see how can we push this going forward? And how can we get the winning result?" the former South African pacer told journalists at the press conference. "We knew that once we get the opportunity, we're always going to look at the positive way and how we can impact that. Throughout the day, we showed the intent that we're going to play. The way the boys went to the ball up-front, it was incredible to see. We created the pressure (with the ball) and brought wickets, and then to show the intent with the bat was awesome. We've got guys that can play different styles. If needed, they can take the game on. If needed, they can bat time," he elaborated.

With the last day of the match expected to be sunny with a little chance of precipitation, India can go all out for a win to tighten their hold on the top spot of the World Test Championship table. A win will make their way into the third WTC final and India will certainly look for it before their five-Test tour Down Under.

MOMINUL STANDS TALL AMID RUINS

FIROZ MIRZA @Kanpur

BANGLADESH were reeling at 29/2 inside 15 overs when former skipper Mominul Haque arrived at the crease. Invited to bat in overcast conditions here at the Green Park Stadium in Kanpur on day one of the second Test. The visitors were on the backfoot and needed someone to arrest the slide.

Mominul, the Test specialist, joined forces with skipper Najmul Hossain Shanto and added 51 runs for the third wicket. Ravichandran Ashwin, Player of the Match from the first Test, sent back the visiting captain but the 33-year-old southpaw remained unbeaten as the rain washed out play for the remaining part of the day. With no play possible in the next two days as well, Bangladesh team members were confined to their rooms in the hotel and so was Mominul. The two-day break could have proved to be counterproductive but the senior batter looked in the zone when play resumed on Monday. Even as everyone around him fell like ninepins, a visibly determined Mominul held the fort from one end to keep the scoreboard ticking.

Mentor Mohammad Salahuddin was sure the two-day gap would not affect Mominul as he has seen quite a few in his long career. "He must have utilised that two-day break to the fullest and the result is there for everyone to see. He doesn't believe in instant success. Instead, he likes to work on his game for a long time seeking permanent benefits. Such hiccups can only spur him on," Salahuddin, former assistant coach of Bangladesh men's team, told this daily.

Since his unbeaten 121 against Afghanistan in Mirpur in June last year, Mominul has reached the 50-run mark thrice in the next seven matches but couldn't convert it to a hundred. The situation in Kanpur was tailor made for him and he made the most of the occasion to slam an unbeaten 107 off 194 balls and take Bangladesh to 233 in their first essay. Eleven years into his international cricket, Mominul has played only 28 ODIs and 6 T20Is so far as he has largely been considered a Test cricketer. At times, it becomes very difficult for such players to continue their momentum especially when the cricketing calendar is packed with white-ball games. Salahuddin also attributed his struggles in the middle of his career to lack of matches. "Of late, Bangladesh have been playing fewer Tests. Mominul plays only one format so naturally it becomes difficult for him to come and perform after such a big gap. Even First Class cricket here in the country is played for a limited time. This all works against him but he doesn't give up easily and keeps striving hard," the mentor said.

Mominul's Test career started with a bang and he took it to another level as time progressed. At times, he was averaging above 50. But by 2017, it dropped. By 2022, it came down below 40. His captaincy stint between 2019 and 2022 didn't help his cause either.

Everything we plan and do is player-centric: NCA chief Laxman

GOMESH S @Chennai

FOR the first time since taking over as National Cricket Academy chief in December 2021, VVS Laxman addressed the media at the Centre of Excellence that was inaugurated in Bengaluru last weekend. Excerpts.

Balancing rehab between upskilling

I think a player getting injured is part and parcel of any athlete's career. That's why recovery, focusing on the fitness standards, and maintaining the fitness standard is something which is very, very critical. In fact, what we have done over the last two years is to standardise the fitness standards, and the levels right from top to bottom. It's not only the Indian cricket team, but even the state teams, I've been given various protocols we and the national players follow. I think both are very important. Only when you upskill yourself, knowing what are the areas to work on, then only you can progress because anyone who's stagnating and with the amount of data, with the amount of analytics we have at our disposal, then a player can be easily found out.

On different coaching techniques

I think even the methodology of coaching has changed. For any player, it's options which we give. It's not that we almost dictate them that you have to do this or you have to change. No, it's the options and ultimately the player should feel comfortable acknowledging and accepting that option. If they feel that that's working, they will embrace it and will continue to use it through the season. The whole objective is to give that exposure to the player. And another thing which we have done is monitoring the players, both men and women. The biggest part here is the player. Everything is player centric and we want the player to benefit.

On handling injuries

I can't comment on what has happened in the past, but I can say with a lot of conviction that I am very, very proud of everyone, every member of my team and also the SSM team because it is a high pressure work for them because they are dealing with injuries and there is a misconception that the timelines have to be met. We have seen Rishabh Pant's case and we have seen Jasprit being here, Shreyas Iyer being here, we have seen KL Rahul being here, Prasidh being here, lot of players, I can't single out one or two, but whoever came here, I mean they have really worked hard. They have conversations at various stages of their rehab because everyday you want to be out there in the middle playing as much as possible, but sometimes you have to accept the fact that you are required to recover properly.

On camp before Women's T20 WC

I think it was obviously a good discussion between Amol Muzumdar and myself. It was a very good productive camp and Amol had planned in such a manner where there was the first phase of the camp where he focused on the mental aspect of the game and the physical aspect of the game. And then there was a break and then they came back and they focused on the skill and the tactical aspect of the game. So the way it works is again a very collaborative effort between me or NCA and the head coach of both men and women and I think luckily we all played together. One of the aspects here is the BCCI facilitates by giving whatever the head coaches of both men and women team want, preparing for any series. I think our cricket is very healthy because the BCCI is investing in developing the bench strength, not only of cricketers but the entire support system which will take Indian cricket forward.

IOA fully responsible for current situation: IOC

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE infighting within the Indian Olympic Association is threatening its existence. The International Olympic Committee is keeping a close watch too. IOC has said that the IOA is responsible for whatever is happening in. In a statement to this newspaper, the IOC said, "The IOA is fully responsible for the current situation and must urgently address and resolve its internal governance issues. The IOC does not have any further comments on this topic to make at this stage." In fact a top IOC official attended the last EC meeting last week. It is time for Supreme Court to take note of the situation. If India are indeed serious about the 2036 Olympics bid, which they are, then a fully functional IOA is required for the constant dialogue with the IOC. That too has stalled. There is no bid committee as of now, either. The way things stand, a general body meeting seems to be the only answer. Dissolving the EC and calling for election could be another alternative. After EC members in a letter to the IOC, the IOA president has claimed that a felicitation for the Olympic winners could not be held because of non-cooperation of EC members.

Mouth-watering clashes

Arsenal face PSG and Leverkusen host Milan in two of the ties of matchday two in the Champions League. A look at some of the fixtures on Tuesday night...

Arsenal vs PSG

The Gunners, fresh off the back of a thrilling win over Leicester in the Premier League, welcome the French champions. In matchday one, Arsenal suffered their way to a 0-0 draw while Paris edged Girona 1-0. Both sides are in that second tier of teams who could win the competition this year. Arsenal will continue to without Martin Odegar while PSG have dropped Ousmane Dembele.

12.30 AM ON WEDNESDAY

Leverkusen vs Milan

While Leverkusen came through Bayern test with honours even, Milan cantered past Lecce. The Germans had a very easy outing in matchday one as well but the Italians, who were thumped by Liverpool, no other another loss could put them way below the leaders. Keep an eye out for Florian Wirtz, the German winger has begun the season on fire and could play a big role.

FAMILIAR ISSUE

Top-order conundrum continues for India

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

"NUMBER three is something special to us," stated India coach Amol Muzumdar in the pre-departure press conference ahead of the Women's T20 World Cup in Dubai. It is a well-established fact in white ball cricket that whoever comes to bat one down has an enormous responsibility on their shoulders. If the team has lost an early wicket, the number three has to settle the nerves and create a base on which the rest of the innings can stand. If the openers have provided the base, number three has a responsibility to launch from there.

Leading into the ninth edition of the event, India has not been able to answer the big question of who is going to take up that role. Since their usual number three, Jemimah Rod-rigues, moved down to five, India have given opportunity to multiple players to bat at three. From Yastika Bhatia to D Hemalatha and Sajeevan Sajana to Uma Chetry have gotten the chance to bat after one of the openers fell. In the last tournament before the World Cup Asia Cup in Sri Lanka, Hemalatha, Sajana and Chetry shared the duties which showed that the team management was trying to find solutions on the go. The return of Yastika Bhatia from injury, however, has changed things a bit. The wicketkeeper-batter has decent experience opening the batting for Mumbai Indians in the Women's Premier League and has done well so far. In the five-match T20I series against Bangladesh in April, which was initially looked at as a preparation for the World Cup before the tournament was shifted to UAE, Bhatia batted at number three in one of the matches. After playing in the solitary T20I,

The left-handed batter was undergoing rehabilitation at the National Cricket Academy due to an injury to her left knee. She can definitely be one of the options for India in the Dubai conditions. "I know for a fact that in T20, the No. 3 sets the game up. We have identified (our No. 3) but we will reveal that only closer to our opening game," Muzumdar had said in the same press conference. Given that, it was expected that India would give whoever they decided to put at three an opportunity during the warm-up game against West Indies. So everyone was surprised when captain Harmanpreet Kaur herself came to bat after opener Shafali Verma fell in the third over. Kaur's knock only lasted for three balls before her counterpart Hayley Matthews sent her back.

Rodrigues batted at four however; made the most of her opportunity and scored a half-century. Bhatia, batting at five, supported Rodrigues in a 50-run partnership after India lost a few early wickets. Hemalatha and Sajana did not get the chance to bat. Maybe India have found who they want to bat at three and they will reveal it only with the playing XI on 4th October. By the looks of it, the position is still up for grabs.

An ectopic pregnancy occurs when a fertilised egg grows outside of the uterus. Almost all ectopic pregnancies—more than 90%—occur in a fallopian tube. As the pregnancy grows, it can cause the tube to burst (rupture). A rupture can cause major internal bleeding

ANNA JOSE @ Kochi

SEENA* was in the 32nd week of her pregnancy when her doctor told the baby was developing complications of anaemia due to blood group incompatibility. She was in a dilemma. The mother, who is Rh-negative, was carrying a Rh-positive foetus – a condition that causes the mother's immune system to attack the foetus's red blood cells – which could lead to serious health problems for the baby. To treat the condition, intrauterine foetal blood transfusion (IUT) – injecting red blood cells from a donor into a foetus that has anaemia through the umbilical vein – was performed. The baby was safely delivered with minimal issues related to prematurity.

According to Dr Sindhu Pudhukudi, consultant in foetal medicine at Aster Medcity, Kochi, advancements in medical sciences and health care have improved the management of high-risk pregnancies. "In this condition, anti-D injection and other treatment options have helped reduce the number of such cases. The risk related to pregnancy, haemorrhages, and hypertension has reduced because of advancements in maternal-foetal care," she said.

With delayed pregnancies, sedentary lifestyles, and comorbid conditions, there is a growing trend of high-risk pregnancies – pregnancies that involve increased risk or complications for the mother or the foetus. Dr Smitha Surendran, consultant gynaecologist at Kinder Hospital, Kochi, said that lifestyle and an imbalanced diet often lead to high-risk pregnancies. "Sedentary lifestyle, food habits, metabolic diseases, and stress contribute to the condition in several women. Lifestyle modifications, reduced stress, and better and balanced food habits can help decrease the possibility of high-risk pregnancies to an extent," said Dr Smitha.

The possibility of high-risk pregnancy increases with advancing age. As the younger generation opts for late marriages in their 30s, there has been a rise in pregnancies with high-risk factors. "Age is an important contributing factor for high-risk pregnancies. The presence of comorbid conditions like diabetes and hypertension are commonly seen in older patients, which put them at higher risk during their pregnancy," said Dr Elizabeth Jacob, head of obstetrics and gynaecology at Apollo Adlux Hospital, Angamaly.

She added that increased stress levels in mothers can also affect the growth of the baby, leading to complications during pregnancy and delivery. Maternal mental health cause of concern during pregnancy and post-partum. "The rising levels of environmental toxins, alcohol, and substance abuse can also add to higher risk, both to the mother and the baby," she said.

Issues are a major

Short birth interval

According to recent studies, the prevalence rate of high-risk pregnancies is around 50% in India. "High-risk pregnancy in India: Prevalence and contributing risk factors – a national survey-based analysis", published in September 2023 in Global Health Journal, has found that nearly half of all pregnancies in India have one or more high-risk factors, which is a matter of concern, and the risks were higher among the vulnerable population such as non-educated and poorest groups. "The prevalence of high-risk pregnancies among Indian women was 49.4%, with 33% of women having a single high-risk, and 16.4% having multiple high-risk pregnancies," states the study, which also points to short birth interval (gap between pregnancies), and adverse birth outcomes as leading high-risk factors.

is-

One major contributing factor is the trend of women delaying childbirth beyond the age of 30, according to Dr N Sapna Lulla, lead consultant, obstetrics and gynaecology, Aster CMI Hospital, Bengaluru.

Women in their late 30s are more likely to develop conditions such as hypertension and diabetes, which can complicate pregnancy. "Additionally, lifestyle factors such as obesity – often rooted in childhood – and sedentary habits further elevate the risk. Poor lifestyle choices like alcohol consumption and smoking significantly contribute to the prevalence of high-risk pregnancies," said Dr Sumana Banerjee, unit head of obstetrics and gynaecology at Aakash Healthcare, Delhi.

"Nearly half of all pregnancies in India have one or more risk factors. The leading cause of high-risk pregnancy is short birth interval. It would be beneficial to consult with a maternal-foetal medicine specialist if a woman has one or more of the above-mentioned risk factors," said Dr Padma, head of gynaecology, Meenakshi Mission Hospital and Research Centre, Madurai.

The increase in high-risk pregnancies (46-48%) has been high particularly in the last five years, according to the survey. "Covid-19 has had a significant impact on mental and physical health, contributing to a rise in high-risk pregnancies. Foetal reasons also cause high-risk pregnancies where the foetus has congenital abnormalities, reduced water, etc.," said Dr Sapna.

AGE A FACTOR

HIGH-RISK PREGNANCIES ON THE RISE

"If the baby has a heart disease, the growth is not optimal and any structural or chromosomal abnormalities are also considered a high-risk pregnancy," said Dr Sindu.

Managing high-risk pregnancies

Preconception counselling is advisable for young couples to address potential fertility issues early. By seeking counselling before trying to conceive, individuals can identify and address any underlying concerns, thereby improving success rates.

Management of high-risk pregnancy starts in the pre-pregnancy stage. "We need to diagnose the condition at the earliest. Pre-pregnancy care is important, and treatment for comorbid conditions to ensure the safety of the mother and child is crucial," Dr Sindu pointed out. Advancements in diagnosis and treatment have helped in managing the condition and thereby reducing mortality. "Earlier, if the pregnancies were found to be in the category of high risk - if the mother suffers from diabetes, cardiac diseases, liver, renal disease, hypertension, age, post-chemotherapy - the advice was to avoid it altogether. Now with better medications and treatments, we can manage such pregnancies," said Dr Sindu.

Diabetes has its own risks and management is crucial in pregnant women. Sharing an experience, Dr Smitha said, "Once a woman in her late 20s came to me. She was already diabetic. Pregnancy for a diabetic person involves a lot of risks and the sugar levels may increase during pregnancy. We advised her to follow a proper diet and balanced diet. To tackle the situation, medications and insulin were prescribed. Though the management of such pregnancies is tough, we could control her sugar levels. The child, with the help of supportive care and treatment, was delivered in the ninth month," Dr Smitha said.

Anaemia, thyroid disease, diabetes, hypertension and other factors leading to high-risk pregnancies need to be diagnosed in the pre-pregnancy period. "Folic acid tablets have a protective role in delivering a healthy baby," said Dr Elizabeth, adding that close monitoring is important. "Regular and frequent ultrasound scanning depending on the condition of the mother and foetus is important," she added. Advancements in technologies have helped in managing high-risk pregnancies after 24 weeks, which would otherwise have led to aborting the child to at least save the mother.

Role Of infertility treatments

With the emergence of in vitro fertilisation (IVF), the number of women opting to get pregnant late has increased. "With the advent of infertility treatments, the maternal age has gone up. Women, who are facing infertility issues are able to conceive in their late 30s and 40s. Though technological advancements help women to conceive, these are considered high-risk pregnancies," said Dr Sindu. "As age advances there may be a need for fertility treatment which can also contribute to a high-risk pregnancy. Multiple pregnancies, with or without fertility treatment, carry a high risk to both the mother and baby," added Dr Elizabeth.

Preventive measures

Awareness about polycystic ovarian disease (PCOD) and endometriosis – conditions that impact fertility – and early diagnosis and treatment are crucial in reducing the number of high-risk pregnancies. "By recognising the symptoms of these conditions, individuals can seek appropriate medical care and improve their chances for a healthy pregnancy. Women need to be empowered with knowledge and resources to take charge of their health. Awareness should be created about reproductive health issues and promoting preventive measures. Affordable and quality healthcare services should be accessible through various channels, including workplaces, NGOs, and schools," added Dr Sapna.

DAY'S DIARY

New car in the market

In 1908, Henry Ford's Model T Ford, a 'universal car' designed for the masses, was completed at the plant in Detroit and went on sale

FEATURES

Model T was a self-starting vehicle with a left-sided steering wheel, enclosed four-cylinder engine, and the first Ford with its parts built by the company at Piquette Avenue plant

LEGACY

Ford's model was to develop a system of interchangeable parts that reduced waste, saved time and made it easier for unskilled workers to assemble the cars

RECOGNITION

In May, 1927, Ford ceased Model T's production. In 1999, the model was named the 'Car of the Century' due to its impact on the industry and society

DRAWING ON TOGETHERNESS

Karri-djarrk-durrkmirri is more than just an exhibition of textiles — it is a celebration of cross-cultural collaboration and the stories that connect us to our landscapes

Design by artist Lucy Yarawanga

Tharangini artists carving a woodblock design by Elizabeth Wullunmingu

POOJA DAS

THE true essence of collaboration, belonging, and honouring traditions rooted in the land is beautifully captured in Karri-djarrk-durrkmirri, an exhibition celebrating the artistic heritage of Aboriginal Australian women, given a new form by Indian textile artisans. In the Kuninjku language of West Arnhem Land, Karri-djarrk-durrkmirri translates to "we work together," a fitting reflection of the exhibition's cross-cultural spirit which brings together the Bábbarra Women's Centre from Australia's remote Arnhem Land and Bengaluru's Tharangini Studio, a heritage woodblock printing studio. "The designs we worked with are sacred, representing important stories and folklore from Arnhem Land, so it was an immense responsibility to translate these into woodblock without losing their essence. Some symbols are so sacred that only a few members of the community are allowed to draw them," says photographer Anahita Ananth with Tharangini Studio. Supported by the Australian Government's Centre for Australia-India Relations (CAIR), the exhibition will display 21 textiles, created using hand-carved woodblocks, showcasing the designs of 16 First Nations Australian women artists, some of whom have passed away. The project, which began with only seven designs has now had the chance to expand to 77 due to the grant as well as the seamless collaboration between the artisans. "The designs from Bábbarra were unlike anything we'd worked with before, but what we share is a deep connection to our respective landscapes. Many of our traditional Indian designs are inspired by nature, much like the designs from Arnhem Land, which are deeply rooted in the artists' connection to the environment around them," says Ananth. Anshu Arora, co-curator of the exhibition, agrees, "We discovered so many parallels between the struggles and resilience of the two artisanal communities. Both are knowledge holders, preserving traditions that have been passed down through generations. So, we wanted to bring out as many of these stories as possible, especially from the women's perspective." Arora highlights the importance of not just showcasing the artistic output but also the belief systems and processes in which art is rooted to give visitors a deeper understanding of the cultural narratives that inform each textile. Aligning with this idea, the exhibition, being led by Tharangini's director Padmini Govind, will also give a glimpse into process behind the final exhibition. "It's been a 24-month process to adapt the designs for woodblock printing. The women at Bábbarra primarily work with linocut prints.

The big difference between lino and woodblock is that lino degrades over time, whereas woodblock, especially when carved from seasoned teak wood like ours, lasts for decades," says Ananth. The designs featured in "Karri-djarrk-durrkmirri" explore various themes, from food and hunting to local flowers and spiritual beliefs. "When you see the textiles, you will get a sense of how their landscape and belief systems are deeply intertwined. We didn't use all 70 blocks, but we carefully selected the stories we wanted to highlight. Each textile draws from the landscape of Arnhem Land — the colours of the sky, the sea, and the flora," says Arora, adding, "The colour palettes and layouts of the textiles reflect the landscape." These stories are essential to the cultural identity of the Aboriginal Australian artists and are often depicted through symbols of mermaids, fish, and seaweed. Arora shares that three of the 21 textiles were made in collaboration with the Porgai community, an artisanal embroidery group from Tamil Nadu, highlighting the 'beauty of this cross-cultural collaboration'. The exhibition will also feature a video installation and photographic documentation of the collaboration, giving visitors a chance to witness the 24-month journey of translating sacred designs into timeless textiles. (The exhibition will be showcased from October 4 to 13, from 11am onwards at the Bangalore International Centre. Entry is free)

NOOKThe American
by Swapneet Singh

An American finds himself ensnared in the criminal underworld after a seemingly innocent gambling encounter spirals into chaos. This compelling whodunit explores the dark depths of ego, hatred, and the lengths one will go to uncover the truth.

My Palestine: An Impossible Exile
by Mohammad Tarbush

A personal memoir with incisive political and economic commentary on the events, shaping the history of Israel, Palestine and the modern Middle East.

I have just completed PG, and need to find a job due to my family's financial situation. But I have lost my spark, and everything feels empty. How do I motivate myself?

DEAR LIFE

Novelist, Illustrator, Speaker

Transitioning from being a student to contributing financially to your family can be overwhelming, especially with the added pressure of suddenly being expected to act like an adult. It is natural to feel unprepared, stressed and stuck. Establish a routine for yourself. Set a fixed time for waking up, exercising, and engaging in activities that bring you joy, like hobbies. Eat well and stay hydrated, as physical well-being impacts mental clarity. Create a plan of action by short-listing companies and dedicating specific time each day to apply for jobs. Avoid mindless scrolling on social media. It's a huge energy-drain. Journaling is a great way to clear your mind and process your thoughts. If possible, take a short break somewhere nearby to get away from your usual environment for a few days. Small, consistent steps are key to overcoming feelings of uncertainty. Remember, nobody feels completely ready — most are just figuring it out as they go. Take each day as it comes, and your mojo will be back.

HEART IS WHERE HOME IS

Every home has a story to tell... CE explores how personalised design can create meaningful living spaces

A house with different themes by Studio Bipolar

MAHIMA ANNA JACOB

HOME is an extension of one's personality. For many, it serves as a sanctuary — a tranquil retreat from the daily hustle where one can unwind after a long day. For others, it's a canvas that showcases individuality, expressing personal interests and passions through design.

Some embrace modern aesthetics with sleek lines and minimalism, while others draw inspiration from rich Indian traditions, featuring intricate details and cultural motifs. Whether it's the entire home or just a few select spaces, each corner can tell a story.

In the Internet era, people can easily be influenced by myriad design inspirations. Interior designers emphasise analysing personal style, which should reflect individual values. Self-reflection — like do you love books, games, travel, or sci-fi, have a passion for gardening and love being surrounded by plants and elements of nature, or have an affinity towards tranquillity and desire a spa-like interior — can bring forth a well-curated space. Combined with thoughtful interiors, the place not only offers visitors a glimpse into who you are, but it can also contribute to a positive mindset. Bengaluru-based interior designer Nain Belliappa agrees that one shouldn't follow specific trends. "Bringing in elements that resonate with personal interests builds a timeless design," she says. The demand for personalised design has grown. "Each client has a vision for their space, and it's crucial to bring a personal approach."

Space of art

Belliappa reflects on this concept by sharing the example of a home currently being designed in Koramangala. "Our client is an avid traveller with a passion for art and textiles. Her collection includes a wide array of art pieces acquired during her journeys, featuring works from renowned international artists as well as local artisans — totalling around a thousand pieces. The client's inviting and open nature calls for a design that emphasises spaciousness

Start small

If an entire interior overhaul feels daunting, experts suggest starting small. "Bringing in accessories, decorative lighting, and a fresh coat of paint itself can give a personality to one's space," says Monish Siripurapu. "While it's important to express your passions, they shouldn't dominate the design. So, space planning is quite essential. A house should look like one rather than a nursery or a gaming den. Pick versatile pieces so that they would go well with the general theme of the house. Or else, the space would look cluttered," says Mathur. Tony Joseph, founder of Stapati Architects, agrees: "One client was into bikes and heavy metal music, so we created a separate space connecting seamlessly with the porch. His bike could enter, and the room featured double-glazed doors and windows so the bang on music would stay within the space."

Sit-out space, Project Chirath

room resonates Irish aesthetics with wooden panelling and marble flooring, and the floor with jacuzzi and spa had Moroccan aesthetics with materials flown in from Turkey," she adds. Certain personalised designs cater to the lifestyle of the residents. "There's a 10,000-sq-ft space and the inhabitants are a couple who are ambitious and career-driven. They wanted a design that spoke to their aspirations. Given their busy lives, they prioritised a low-maintenance design with luxurious materials that require little upkeep," Mathur shares.

Living in the city often stirs a longing for a slower pace, away from the urban hustle. Instead of simply incorporating calming elements into their existing homes, some seek a tranquil experience in a new environment. "In Dhana-chuli, Uttarakhand, a client envisioned a getaway from city life — a second home with panoramic views of the Himalayas. We designed the space to embrace its stunning surroundings, creating a feeling of walking through nature itself. Inside, full-height glazed windows and a skylight flood the area with natural light. Dark wood flooring and neutral-toned furniture complement the wooden exteriors, while soft blue walls draw inspiration from the expansiveness," says Monish Siripurapu, principal architect of Ant Studio.

Sustainability and personalised design

Architect and founder of Kochi-based architecture firm Wallmakers, Vinu Daniel, emphasises that sustainability blends with personalised design. Individual interests, like music and even rain, can be seamlessly integrated. Daniel talks about his project 'Nisarga', in Angamaly, a residence of a family of musicians. "We aimed for music to be the primary focus, making it the main accessory of the space. To achieve this, we kept the interior design minimal, allowing clients to immerse themselves in music without distractions. We integrated furniture into the floor design, creating cut-outs. All the home's interior spaces are designed as open and flexible expanses," he says.

Daniel highlights that the walls of 'Nisarga' were built using Wallmakers' 'Shuttered Debris Wall Technique'. "This method combines waste materials, debris, cement, and soil from the site. We protected the west side of the house from the afternoon sun using discarded racks from a scrapyard, which serve as grills," he adds. "The sloping roof also serves for open-air concerts. There are designed breaks in the roof to allow light that can hold seating for 80 people. The centre stage sits above a pool, creating an acoustic space."

The Chirath project, another residency designed by Daniel, emphasises the client's desire to redefine traditional systems and beliefs. "Historically, many architectural practices reinforced gender inequality by confining women to courtyards in 'naalukettu' (traditional Kerala mansion). The client wanted a house that shattered these norms," he shares. "To achieve this, we broke open the roof, to escape the sense of confinement. We crafted furniture from wooden scraps and repurposed terracotta jaalis from locally sourced tiles."

DESIGN STORY

Decoding myths about interior designers

THE process of revamping your space or creating a home can be an exciting yet overwhelming experience. The idea of embracing your style and personality and incorporating it into a space while keeping it functional and aesthetic is what an interior designer essentially does. Here are a few common myths about us that I will help you deflate:

DIY resources can replace an interior designer

The common misconception is that with the available resources online, interior design services become irrelevant and an added expense. While the resources available online are educational and informative, they lack the customised solutions that an interior designer can cater to. They come armed with information on the latest materials and practical solutions - providing customised expertise for your space.

Interior designers are expensive

Building a home/space comes with an enormous number of decisions to be made while also keeping an eye on the project timelines. When an interior designer is on board, they bring to the table expertise on project management, an experienced team, a great directory of vendors and unmatched experience as part of their skill set making the process seamless and the investment having significant value.

Interior designers work on only large-scale projects

An interior designer with an eye for detail can make impactful changes in any space regardless of it being big or small. Most designers take up projects based on the requirements of the client in terms of the expertise needed and whether or not they would be a good fit for it.

There are various aspects to a designer saying yes to a project and scale is definitely not one of them unless their skills are underpaid for. In most cases, for a creative person, a blank canvas and the freedom to colour it is what matters the most.

When an interior designer is on board, they impose their personal style

The fear that many clients have while seeking the services of an interior designer is that they would lose their freedom to make their space personal in terms of style. Every designer comes on board to enhance and incorporate the client's personality and style into their space keeping aesthetics, functionality and optimal utilisation of space in mind through the process. This becomes even more crucial when the space is small and multi-functional or caters to people of different age groups.

There is absolutely no amount of free resources or shortcuts that can compare to the expertise of a professional. What they bring to the table is way more valuable than the cost and experience incurred to execute a project without help.

MONSTERA, A PLANT WITH UNIQUELY CUT LEAVES AND NATIVE TO LATIN AMERICA, HAS BECOME A POPULAR CHOICE IN MODERN HOME DECOR. HERE'S THE HACK TO MAINTAIN IT WELL

MONSTERA CARE

MONSTERAS thrive in warm and humid conditions, which makes most Indian regions suitable for their growth. Ideal humidity is maintained between 50 per cent to 60 per cent. In a typical home setup, achieving these humidity levels might be challenging so here are some easy methods to mimic high humidity:

- Use a humidifier.
- Place a pebble tray filled with water near the plant.
- Group plants together to create a micro-humid environment.

Light and Soil Needs

Monstera varieties, such as the Split Leaf Monstera and Broken Heart are well-suited for boho-themed interiors due to their unique leaf shapes. They flourish in medium to bright indirect light and require regular watering to keep the soil moist but not soggy. A coco peat-based soil mix is ideal for these plants.

Common Issues

If brown tips or yellowing of leaves persist even after increasing the humidity, the issue could be inconsistent watering. Adjust your watering schedule every two to three days and ensure you water when the topsoil feels dry to the touch.

Propagation Tips

You can easily propagate Monsteras at home. Simply cut below a node, ensuring the cutting includes an aerial root. The monsoon or rainy season is the ideal time for propagating this plant.

Mimicking Natural Habitat

In the wild, Monsteras grow as understory plants, often climbing up the tree bark. To replicate this at home, provide your Monstera with a tall moss stick for support and it will grace your home.

KANTARA CELEBRATES 2 YEARS, SETS THE BAR HIGH FOR KANTARA CHAPTER 1

CE FEATURES

RISHAB Shetty's Kantara has not only enchanted audiences in Kannada but has also made waves across multiple languages, emerging as a blockbuster sensation. With a modest budget of just 16 crores, the film skyrocketed to an incredible 460 crores at the box office, firmly establishing its place as a cultural phenomenon. As it celebrates its second anniversary on September 30, producer Vijay Kiragandur of Hombale Films took to reflect on this extraordinary journey. In a heartfelt note shared on Instagram, the team expressed their gratitude: "A truly special film that remains close to our hearts. Our deepest gratitude goes out to the amazing audience who transformed it into a divine phenomenon."

The film's success is measured not only in numbers but also in the prestigious National Award it received, crowning its achievements and highlighting the magic that transcends time and borders. The celebrations for Kantara continue, with accolades pouring in, and the team is gearing up to accept the National Award on October 8.

But the excitement doesn't end there. The creators are thrilled to share that they are halfway through the making of the next chapter of this epic tale. "We are excited to embark on the next chapter of this epic tale, bringing Kantara Chapter 1 to you all very soon."

Rishab Shetty, who directed, co-wrote, and starred in Kantara, is currently focused on the film's prequel. Tentatively set for release in 2025, Rishab is taking his time to craft a compelling story, starting with the scripting process. As the team continues to build on the success of Kantara, fans eagerly await this groundbreaking addition to the remarkable saga.

With its rich storytelling and cultural depth, Kantara has set the bar high, and the anticipation for Kantara Chapter 1 is palpable. As the team celebrates the journey of Kantara, they are equally excited about the adventures that lie ahead.

'I WANT TO GRASP THE LOGISTICS OF CINEMA BEFORE STEPPING INTO A HERO'S ROLE'

A SHARADHAA

Ranav Ksheersagar is an example of how determination can bridge the gap between dreams and reality. With no connection to the film industry, he made a striking entry into Kannada cinema with a small yet impactful role in Puneeth Rajkumar's Yuvarathna. "Working with Puneeth Rajkumar sir was a dream come true. His humility, generosity, and exceptional acting skills were a constant inspiration," he recalls. Reflecting on his journey from there to now, he admits, "The struggle is quite real when you come from a non-film background."

Following this, Ranav embraced a darker persona in Yuva, stepping into the role of an antagonist alongside Yuvarajkumar. His skill at portraying negative shades quickly caught the industry's attention, making him a sought-after actor for such roles. He will soon be seen in Bagheera, directed by Dr Suri, sharing the screen with Sriimurali, and in Royal, directed by Dinakar Thoogudeepa, where he will again explore the complexities of a villainous character.

For Ranav, the seeds of his passion were sown at home, inspired by the legendary Dr Rajkumar. "Growing up, I was captivated by the magic of cinema. His films filled our home with laughter, tears, and a sense of wonder," he says, further explaining how this influence ignited his ambition. "My childhood dreams were shaped by watching my idol, fuelling my desire to be part of the mesmerising world of cinema."

His journey took root in summer camps, where he took to theatre and collaborated with music composer Hamsalekha. "I was fortunate to be part of Abhinaya Taranga, where I had the opportunity to perform in several acts," he shares, adding, "After completing my education, I took a bold leap into the film industry, starting as an assistant director and eventually becoming an associate director," he says.

Ranav has also dabbled in advertising, having worked on around 250 commercials. "That experience serves as a ready reckoner for me to showcase my work to directors and producers," he shares.

When asked about the roles he aspires to take on, he states, "Actors don't choose roles; characters in the script choose them." He shares that his aim is to play characters that connect with audiences. "I want to play roles that leave a lasting impression—characters that feel like the guy next door—relatable and authentic. I'm also open to exploring more challenging roles, including antagonists."

says Ranav Ksheersagar, who is currently happy to be the actor in demand to play the negative character and looks forward to seeing himself in films like Bagheera and Royal nect with audiences. "I want to play roles that leave a lasting impression—characters that feel like the guy next door—relatable and authentic. I'm also open to exploring more challenging roles, including antagonists."

With hope and gratitude, Ranav concludes, "With God's blessings, I hope to one day play the lead hero and create a mark for myself in the Kannada film industry. I want to grasp the lo-

THE shooting for #Paru Parvathy, directed by Rohith Keerthi and produced by PB Premnath, has been wrapped. The film features former Bigg Boss contestant Deepika Das, along with Poonam Nayak and Fawaz Ashraf in significant roles. Post-production work is currently in full swing, with its release expected soon.

The makers recently unveiled the first look poster, titled 'Infinity Road.' This travel and adventure drama beautifully captures the essence of the film amidst the stunning backdrop of nature, emphasising its connection to the great outdoors. The poster is not just visually striking; it showcases the journey of two characters and their thrilling adventures, symbolising an endless quest filled with exploration and discovery. The imagery conveys a sense of wanderlust and excitement, making it clear that this film is set to resonate with both adventure enthusiasts and casual viewers alike. Since its release, the poster has garnered immense praise and excitement from fans and industry insiders.

SHOOTING WRAPPED FOR #PARU PARVATHY

With a first-look poster unveiled, the film's audio is set to be launched on October 3

The poster launch event, held in collaboration with Thaar Bengaluru, aimed not only to introduce the film but also to promote an important message about environmental conservation. As part of the event, the team organised a tree-planting initiative that encouraged attendees to engage actively with nature. The event was made even more meaningful by discussions on how to care for the saplings, ensuring that the message of sustainability resonates beyond the event itself. Guests received saplings to nurture at home, making them ambassadors for the environment.

The film's audio release is scheduled for October 3. Director Rohith Keerthi has hinted that a trailer will also be released soon as they prepare for the next steps in bringing #Paru Parvathy to the silver screen.

Dinesh Shenoy aims to adapt National award-winning short film Madhyantara into a feature film

CE FEATURES

THE short film Madhyantara, directed by Dinesh Shenoy, has captured the hearts of audiences and critics alike, earning accolades from many actors in the industry. Clocking in at just thirty-four minutes, this short story made an impact, recently securing two prestigious awards in the non-feature film category at the 70th National Film Awards. Both Dinesh and editor Suresh Aras were celebrated for their outstanding contributions.

A recent screening of the film happened in the presence of senior actor and producer Dr Jayamala, alongside KV Prabhakar, media advisor to the Chief Minister, who graced the event as chief guest. Dinesh, talking on his long journey, stated, "I have had a connection with the film industry for over twenty-seven years. However, this story was born during the COVID-19 period. Before making it into a feature film, I believed it was essential to first create this short film. If it connects with the audience, we can then move on to a full-length project. The goal was to attract producers."

Following the film's screening, Dinesh Shenoy added that Dayal Padmanabhan suggested submitting it to Panorama. Encouraged by friends who advised that it could be sent for the National Awards if censored by December, the team took action. Madhyantara has now claimed two awards in the non-feature section. Set against the backdrop of 1976 to 1985, the film was shot on film for just eleven days. Dinesh revealed, "Producer Manik Chand's words during an interview inspired me for Madhyantara. We are now looking to expand this story into a feature film shortly."

Suresh Aras, the editor, expressed his gratitude for the recognition. Dr Jayamala lauded Dinesh's efforts, stating, "Dinesh has managed to convey such a remarkable story in just a few minutes. Winning a National Award on his first attempt is a tremendous achievement."

KV Prabhakar extended his best wishes to the Madhyantara team and said, "I will discuss matters that can benefit the film industry with the Chief Minister."

NAMRATA JOSHI

BRITISH-INDIAN filmmaker Sandhya Suri's debut fiction feature, Santosh, is the United Kingdom's official entry in the best international feature film category at the Oscars. Set in a fictional North Indian town, it is centred on two Indian actors—Shahana Goswami and Sunita Rajwar—in the lead roles of policewomen Santosh and Inspector Sharma, respectively.

The UK-Germany-France co-production, which premiered in the Un Certain Regard section of the Cannes Film Festival earlier this year, is about the young widow Santosh, who is offered her deceased husband's job in the police. It is while investigating the rape and murder of a minor girl from a disempowered caste, that her own understanding of herself and the world begins, with her senior, Inspector Sharma as her mentor.

CE caught up with Sandhya in Cannes, the day after the film's premiere. She spoke about the film's central theme of violence against women, the extensive research that went into it, recreating small town North India on-screen and choosing Shahana and Sunita for the lead roles.

'There is a theatricality to policing'

Excerpts:
Films usually come from a personal space. What made you pick up a subject like Santosh for yours?

It is a very personal film to me in terms of just the feeling the film evokes. I don't believe I have to necessarily make something autobiographical. It was more about trying to say something about being a woman in this particular type of situation. It's not something that happened to me. But then it became very lived in, in terms of the extremely long and thorough research process, that started with a sentiment and a need to communicate something about violence. But, was there any specific incident or news that you read which inspired the film?

I wanted to make a film about violence against women in India. I have done a lot of work with the NGOs. I was working in small towns in North India and seeing such horrible things daily. In a documentary, you can't show things that are too horrible. So, that's why after the Delhi gang rape case, when I saw this photograph of the protesters, this line of police officers, and this one policewoman, she was so interesting to me. Who is this? What is she feeling? She's got this uniform, which has so much authority, especially in India, and yet the feeling of being powerless. It's then that I got interested. I thought here's a story. I'm a documentary maker, not a genre filmmaker, so I was wondering how to do it. How do I make that mine? It then became all about that.
